ALDEN W. READ

"If more people knew all the things the Red Cross does, then far more of them would open their veins and their pocket-books," says Alden W. Read, Junior Red Cross chairman for Newton. As a chairman and as a worker in the current Red Cross campaign to raise $75,000 in our city during March, Mr. Read speaks with knowledge and with contagious enthusiasm.

Just sit down with him for a talk, as I did, and you are impressed with the facts. He's a genial man of average height, pleasant voice and round, smiling world issues. For these forums speakers of major importance will be brought here to increase understanding among nations and between sections of our own country.

"Won't you also have student teams of Red Cross speakers?" You could tell from his smile that this phase was dear to his heart! "Yes, Junior Red Cross members have organized a public speaking bureau at the High School. Thus a boy and girl form a team to speak at gatherings without adults to take charge. One introduces the other. These teen-agers answer every question with authority born of knowledge about Red Cross work.

"Furthermore the school art departments make window displays with posters and paper sculpture. These exhibits will be changed frequently. And Newton is the only city as yet to teach about the make-up of blood and its many uses for plasma, surgery, etc., through the last 6 years of school. So the entire nation will be watching Newton's 3-fold Junior Red Cross program of speaking teams, window displays and blood programs."

"Your long experience as a teacher has, no doubt, helped you plan this admirable program, Mr. Read. And your profession has certainly been in the news recently!"

He gave a broad smile. "Yes, it has. Many people look at a teacher's classroom hours and think that is the extent of his work. They forget the years and years of preparation that make ours a successful day of teaching."

In Read's case the years began in Fall River, Mass. At 7 he moved to Bridgewater where he attended the Bridgewater High School and the Bridgewater Teachers' College. With a B. S. in Education from the latter and a Master's Degree in Education from Boston University, he settled down to teaching and married "the girl around the corner" back home in Bridgewater. The Reads' only child, Robert, went to Newton High, served in the Army of the United States and is now a sophomore at Boston University. "After spending a year in Berlin, Robert is an enthusiastic booster of the overseas activities of the Red Cross!" his Dad explains.

In his 21 years as Math teacher at Day Junior High, Mr. Read also served as assistant Principal during the three war years. "At the Junior High level it is becoming evident that boys generally do a better job than girls in Mathematics," he said in answer to my question about this. "But every once in a while a girl comes along who will outdistance every boy in her class. We attribute the usual difference, however, to a felt need and to a greater interest in Math among the boys."

For many years Alden Read conducted a broadcasting club under the theme "Broadcasts For Pupils By Pupils." He has also coached athletics and dramatics in Newton. "I consider Warren Huston (Husty), the present Newton High football coach, the greatest all around athlete I have ever trained," he says. In addition Mr. Read is active in many Newton groups. He belongs to the Second Church (Congregational) in West Newton.

French Girl Says "Promise Broken" Sues Senator Lee For $10,000

Senator Richard H. Lee of Church street, Newton is being sued for $10,000 by Mile. Marie Louise Chaintre of Brittany. The attractive Frenchwoman charged in Middlesex Superior Court that Lee falsely induced her to come to this country for the sake of "companionship." She also stated that she met Senator Lee while he was serving overseas as a Lieutenant Colonel and that he "deliberately and intentionally made false representations to induce her to come to America in order that he might obtain her companionship." She met Lee while she was living at St. Briev and a "close friendship developed." She said she consulted him from time to time on business matters. Lee denies the charge and maintains that he acted as her lawyer, loaned her six hundred dollars and did five hundred dollars worth of legal work for which he never received pay.

Gordon MacKinnon, assistant to the president of Burdett College and director of the Dale Carnegie course in Effective speaking was speaker on this subject at the Auburndale Men's Club on Monday.

What will Happen to Your Business?
When the owner dies, his business may be Sold,
Managed by a member of his family,
Managed by someone else for the benefit of his family.
All too often creditors force the sale of a business because the owner failed to make proper arrangements to have it continued.
If you want your business continued by a member of your family, or by someone else for the benefit of your family, you should make adequate provisions in your will for this.
To properly safeguard your family's future, you should make sure that your family will continue to get income from your business or will be able to dispose of the business at a fair price. In making plans to gain either of these objectives, you might find helpful the experience we have had in handling estates of people who owned their own businesses. We should be glad to talk to you and your attorney about this matter at any time.

"Where does the money go?"
Of course, it's exasperating to find all your money gone "just a few days after payday" ... to wonder (and argue!) where it all went.
The simplest way to avoid this exasperation is to make sure that you spend a little less than you earn. You can make sure of that by opening a savings account and depositing a little money every payday before you do any spending.
Naturally, the place for your Savings Account is this sound, long-established Mutual Savings Bank where all deposits are insured in full under State law.

Burke's Drug Store Scores 8th Straight

In the opening semi-final round of the American Division playoffs in the Newton City Basketball League on Monday night at the Bigelow Junior High School Gym, the undefeated Burke Drug Store team scored its eighth straight triumph by stopping the Cabot A. C. 62 to 45, and the Mullen Brothers defeated Gath-Auburndale 52-44.

Bob Fitzgerald soaked in 20 points on eight baskets and four free throws while Jim Maloney was the leading scorer for Cabot with six goals and two fouls for 14 points.

The Burkes hopped to a 10 to 8 first period lead and went into intermission with a 31 to 18 margin. Although outscored nine to eight in the third period, the Burkes exploded in the last chapter with 23 points while Cabot registered 18.

The Mullen Brothers, with Dick Kinchla leading the way with 22 points on five baskets and 12 foul successes, had a first period edge of 18 to 7 and held a 31 to 23 margin at half-time.

With Kinchla registering a basket and four straight free throws, that was all the Mullens needed to step up the pace and score 14 points to eight for the losers in the third period.

The Gath's, trailing 45 to 31, in the fourth quarter outscored the Mullens, 10 to 7, but just didn't have it, with poor shooting forcing the losers to drop their second game of the season, after completing the regular campaign with six triumphs and a setback.

Bill Whelan paced the scoring for Dell Ryan's contingent with 15 points on seven goals and a free throw.

High scorer for Central was Hirkley, their center, with 33 points. Central was so far ahead at the half that from then on they just romped through the rest of the game. High scorer for Messiah was Klosterman — 14 points.

Waban Union beat St. John's Methodist 29-22. High scorer for Union was Road with 12 points. Union led most of the way, though St. John's tied 14-14 late in the third period. High scorers for St. John's were Lockhart and Eckman who tied, each with 8 points.

First Congregational lost to Trinity—35-27. High scorer for Trinity was Perkins with 10 points. High scorer for First was Orth with 14 points.

Donny was high scorer with 9 points and Paul was right behind him with 8 points. Messiah led all the way. If they had played like this at the start of the season they probably would have won a lot more games. Rev. McClintock of Messiah was there rooting for his team.

Newtonville Methodist led all the way through the game with St. John's Episcopal and won 36-10. Southerland with 13 points and Studly with 14 points starred for Methodist.

Second Congregational romped over Waban Union 39-15. Kreider starred for Second, setting up plays and sinking layup shots. He always seemed to be clear for a pass from his teammates. Waban started to roll late in the game but the final whistle blew before they could run up much of a score. First Baptist forfeited to Eliot Congregational.

And it's one of the easiest and cheapest of all health precautions.

Will Congress Take Over?

Congressmen on both sides of Capitol Hill are preparing to give President Truman a demonstration of constitutional government at work when he returns from his winter vacation in the warm Caribbean waters.

The determination of Congress to take matters into its own hands has been present for a long time. It was stiffened by a passage in Mr. Truman's Jefferson-Jackson Day speech, when he said:

"Conditions are too grave in the world at this time to put a Congress in control of the purse strings of this country, a Congress which does not and cares not to understand what the facts are."

Congressmen of both parties were quick to point out that Mr. Truman has ignored one large and important fact. The Constitution provides in language nobody can mistake that CONGRESS shall have power to raise all revenues for the Federal Government.

The alternative is to have taxes levied at the whim of the Executive. Such power is wielded today only by the rulers of totalitarian states.

"That is a far cry from the philosophy of Jefferson which Mr. Truman still guides his Administration. Jefferson's fears of such a concentration of power in the Executive Branch made him a fighter for State Rights."

When the taxing and spending power was spelled out in the Constitution as residing in Congress, no attempt was made to decide what kind of a Congress it should be. Power over the public purse was not qualified by stating that the Congress must live up to some future Chief Executive's definition of "the facts."

But the President struck a tender spot when he talked about facing the facts. One chief criticism directed by the present Congress toward the Executive is the difficulty of getting facts from Administration officials. In many cases, notably the program for European recovery, there has been a marked delay in presenting the facts to Congress and public. Other information furnished by the Administration was sometimes termed incomplete, inaccurate, or downright misleading.

So Congress is in a mood to give a double-barreled welcome to Mr. Truman on his return. One barrel will take care of a reduction in taxes. The other will chop the President's budget down to a more reasonable size. Congress will exercise its constitutional power over the purse despite Mr. Truman's doubts on the subject.

Who's in the Driver's Seat?

Did you know you had a competitor who is pushing up the prices of everything you need and want and who, at the same time, has declared himself a silent partner and is taking anywhere from 10 per cent to 85 per cent of all your earnings? You have. It is the government that we, the people, have permitted to grow in Washington. It does some of the funniest things—but it isn't funny.

Do you know what made wheat go up $1.00 a bushel? Your government bought 19,000,000 bushels of wheat one day with your money. Then, when they saw what had happened, these experts of government squealed to high heaven for controls. The way government is run today by the hangover appointees of the New Deal is something like this:

A guy steps into your car. He says, "I'm doing the driving; you ride in the back seat." He drives as wild as an Indian. Finally, he smacks into a telegraph pole and busts your car almost beyond repair. Then he turns to you and says, "See what you did? This is all your fault. I'm going to sue you for damages." You stand in amazement. He explains in traffic court that it is all your fault because you let him drive your car.

The funny part about it all is that he is right. How much longer are you going to let them drive you?

Spring House Cleaning

From now until the end of April, all good and industrious housewives will be concerned with the business of spring house-cleaning. This means a thorough scouring of the home from attic to cellar. Not a nook or cranny is overlooked. But should this spring house cleaning be confined only to the home? Is it not a good time for each and every one of us to take stock of ourselves and the city and town in which we live?

Since the first of the year several new undertakings have been accomplished in the City of Newton by several civic minded organizations. The first was the installation of lights in the parking area in Newton Centre. This necessity was first proposed and pushed by the Newton Corner Business and Professional Association. The contemplated Veterans' Housing project in Oak Hill is another very worthwhile improvement in this city. This was largely due to the efforts of the Veterans Administration. The third proposed project which received favorable comment is the attempted solution of the Newton Centre parking problem by the Newton Centre Business Men.

These improvements show that some groups at least are not content to let good resolutions be made the first of the year and then forgotten. They seek to better the conditions in the City of Newton for all. Let us pattern ourselves after them. Let us clean house. If there are improvements that can be made in our own communities, let us speak of them and bring them before the attention of the right organizations and persevere until they are acted upon. The city government, the various improvement associations and Business Men's groups appreciate and welcome constructive criticism. So let's take stock of our city . . . and ourselves NOW! Let's start off this month like all good housewives with spring house cleaning. It's up to you . . . if there are improvements that you think should be made . . . speak up!

Electives To Be Discussed at F.A. DAY P.T.A. Meeting

A discussion of elective subjects in the Newton junior and senior high schools will be the feature of the March 11 meeting of the F. A. Day Junior High School Parent Teachers Association. Mr. Ralph Morse, principal of the Day Junior High School, will be moderator of the meeting. Speakers will be Mr. Raymond A. Green and Miss Cora E. Riley, of the Newton High School; Mr. James Forbes and Mr. Warren M. Switzer, of the Trade School; and Miss Mary Gianferante, Mr. Edwin Frye, and Mr. Alden Read, of the F. A. Day Junior High School.

The choice of elective subjects and their significance in determining the courses to be taken in high school will be discussed, and a question period will give parents an opportunity to bring out points on which they want more information.

The whole subject of electives is of considerable importance to both pupils and parents. The purpose of the meeting is to clarify the subject for parents and to give them the information necessary to guide their children in the selection of elective courses.

NEWTON SCHOOL DEPARTMENT URGES PARENTS TO HAVE CHILDREN HOME FOR LUNCH

With the resumption of afternoon sessions of the elementary schools in the City of Newton, school department officials urge parents to have their children come home for luncheon. This is as much a benefit to the children as it is to teachers. In the schools there is no adequate lunchroom facilities it has been pointed out. The only place where the children can eat is in the classrooms and this is an added burden to the teachers. However children in the first three grades, living over three quarters of a mile away from school and those in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades who live more than a mile away may bring their lunches.

NEWTON — Thomas Conway made a trip from Boston to this place last evening, riding on the trucks of a passenger car. When he alighted, he stepped almost in front of an express train which brushed his arm as it went whizzing past. Conway was undisturbed and calm while many other persons who had seen his danger became much excited. The express train stopped and altogether there was an unusual commotion. Conway is a sailor and had just put into port. He said he thought he would venture on another cruise taking an inland route. It led, however, to the lock-up where he hoisted sail for the night. This morning he was in court for evading car fare and his case continued 30 days.

WABAN—The pines and oaks on Beacon street are particularly fine this winter. Their beauty being enhanced by the masses of snow in the branches and on the ground below. We know of no place about Boston where tree growth is as beautiful as here in Waban.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS—A man at the Pettie machine works lost a finger Monday, getting it caught in the machinery.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS—Officer Seaver was off duty Tuesday night after having several teeth extracted.

The heavy storm of last week gave employment to all hands that could be hired here the past ten days.

NEWTON—Mr. Arthur W. Porter will soon begin training for track work this summer, making a specialty of middle distance racing. He is backed by a well-known Waltham firm and will carry his own battery of pacers.

A local merchant who of late has been troubled by the large number of young men who are fond of loitering about his place of business, has been obliged to post notices in different parts of his store. Some of them are very novel as can be seen by the following specimens: "Be brief, we have our living to make, and it takes all our time to do it"; "The Caucus is adjourned, you cant loaf here"; "This store is no loafing place."

There is a very dangerous practice, which is becoming altogether too popular in the north-side villages. In fact it has become so unpleasant to law-abiding citizens that they have decided to evoke aid of the police in restricting it. During the past week and night, some individuals, with a strange sense of humor has placed a cartridge on the electric car tracks, evidently to hear the explosion, and watch the effect on the passengers and bystanders. The Sunday evening quiet of Ward 1 was rudely disturbed by such a noise last Sunday, and in other villages similar occurrences have taken place. The police have been on the look out for the miscreants, and it is hoped they will be successful in making a capture.

AUBURNDALE — Mrs. D. A. Lincoln, the author of the Boston Cook Book, the most popular book upon the subject which probably was ever written, was in town this week visiting the cooking classes at the seminary.

SNEAK THIEVES Create Considerable Excitement In Nonantum Square

The storekeepers in Nonantum Square were afforded a little excitement last Tuesday afternoon, when two young men were arrested following a spirited chase, in which citizens, boys and automobiles took an active part. The former was placed under arrest after he jumped a distance of 15 feet from the top of the wall across from the Newton depot, landing on the railroad track in a dazed condition.

Politics With Color

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note).

Convention Delegates

As had been expected in many quarters, Rep. Richard J. Allen of Brookline and Louis Lobel of Allston have withdrawn from the contest for Tenth Congressional district delegates to the G. O. P. national convention next June. This leaves the field open to our former Mayor, Sinclair Weeks, and his running-mate, Cong. Christian A. Herter. The Allen-Lobel retirement was entirely in the interest of party harmony and Messrs. Weeks and Herter issued a most appreciative public statement. I might remind my readers that all the excitement of the past month or two was originally caused by an old friend of mine, Attorney General Clarence A. Barnes of Mansfield, who was apparently persuaded by some of those closest to him that he was entitled to one of the seven-at-large seats in the Massachusetts delegation. That forced Sinclair Weeks to drop down to a district delegate's seat, which he willingly did, again for party harmony.

Bill Mullins, the Herald's political expert, had this to say in his column last Monday, "Defeat for them (Allen and Lobel), would not have been particularly damaging because of the eminence of Messrs. Weeks and Herter. The important factor is that New York's Governor (Dewey) has lost the opportunity to seat two warm supporters." I have only the vaguest sort of recollection of that phase of the situation and I doubt if it had been very widely publicized, except in the sacred precincts of the Legislature.

Taxpayers Report

There is some material in the February 16 issue of Taxpayer Topics, published by the Newton Taxpayers' Association, which is so very interesting that I am giving it a little extra circulation. I quote: "In Massachusetts we like to think of ourselves as a first class example of democracy, and we point to our town meetings and our public schools as historic examples. But the democratic principle has never been extended to real home rule in Massachusetts and it probably never will. Nor is the state government immune from the fungus-like tendency to growth inherent in all bureaucratic institutions . . . In recognition of this situation in Massachusetts political life it is the duty of any civic group to study closely the work of our legislators on Beacon Hill. It is particularly the duty of Newtonians to note the growth of an equalitarian tendency across the state; for in relation to many other cities and towns Newton is in a most favorable position and can expect to suffer more sharply in any leveling-off process. In the fields or highways, Veterans Benefits, Relief and Education the state is steadily moving in, due in many cases to the doctrine of equalitarian necessity. The residents of Newton, upon whom a great burden of taxation is laid to pay for any increase in governmental activity, have a real self-interest in checking up on any such new undertakings—not necessarily to oppose such projects if they are proved useful, but to examine them and then to exert their own influence as taxpayers so that they are not unduly loaded down."

Guest-Day at Auburndale Review Club

One of the social events of the year for the Review Club of Auburndale is the Annual Guest-Day. This year it is planned to have an afternoon affair March 9 at 2:30 o'clock, when members can invite their friends. The place is 144 Hancock street. A musical program, with inspirational and entertaining readings, will be presented by Theremin Virtuoso H. Whipple Abbott and Miss Margaret F. Abbott. He calls his feature "Music in the Air." All programs of the Review Club are arranged by Mrs. Raymond E. Wass. Mrs. Edmund J. Wilson is in her second year as president.

The Club will be hostess to its past-presidents, honoring members and presidents of other clubs in the Twelfth District of the Newton Federation. Mrs. Ernest A. Hale, director of Twelfth District, will be guest of honor.

Social Science Club

Mrs. George H. Lusk will present a paper on "Un-American Groups" at the Social Science Club meeting, Wednesday morning, March 10.

Mrs. Edward Ambler and Mrs. Nathan Heard will be the hostesses.

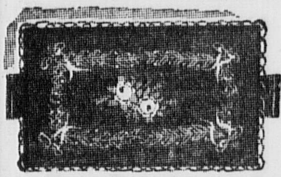

Newton's Younger Generation

These are the Bankart boys! Richard, better known as Dickie, and William, better known as Billy. If you will look closely you will see that Richard wears his name embroidered right on his collar, which is befitting a man of five, who goes to kindergarten. Billy, at two-and-a-half, is hoping to be grown up enough to do that kind of thing soon. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bankart and they live at 133 Elliot Avenue, West Newton.

Kiwanis Club

Robert J. McKeehn, assistant to the president of a Boston fuel concern merchandising 10,000,000 tons of bituminous coal annually, told the Newton Kiwanis Club yesterday, at the Newton Y. M. C. A. that, among other things, one pound of coal will keep a 100-watt electric light bulb glowing for 7 1/2 hours, a small radio operating 25 hours, and the family washing machine churning seven hours.

The 670,000,000 tons of coal mined annually in Uncle Sam's 12,000 mines accomplishes miracles in sustaining the American way of life, he declared, adding that 80 pounds of the black essence will enable a locomotive to haul one passenger coach a distance of 14 miles.

The by-products of coal smoke, Mr. McKeehn said, "supports 5,000,000 Americans. Leading the world in coal production, U. S. coal also feeds 100 per cent of our coke ovens and steel mills, and 65 per cent of our railroads."

In conclusion, the speaker said that Germany obtained gasoline from coal during the war and that $3,500,000 have been invested by the U. S. coal industry in the building of a plant for the "gasification of coal."

Auburndale
Woman's Club

The fact that "beauty is only skin-deep" was proven by a most amusing one-act comedy entitled "Skin Deep" presented to some 200 members of the Auburndale Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon. The play was written by Mrs. Albert B. Terkelsen, Program Chairman of the club, in collaboration with Mrs. Clifford Parcher of West Newton, a former member. The setting was laid in a New York beauty parlor where, in witty dialogue, the manager, portrayed by Mrs. Thos. H. Wilson, beauty operators, portrayed by Mrs. Edwin C. Harkins and Mrs. Theodore Friedrichs and patronesses gossip about other customers, their husbands and boy friends. Madame Bambini, a retired opera singer, played by Mrs. Daragh L. Higgins, Club President, brought many laughs from the audience as she burst into operatic measures and made tart comments. Maria Paglio of the Metropolitan Opera, played by Mrs. Harry E. Thompson, was effective as she pranced about the stage resplendent in silver foxes and the "new look". Her arch enemy, Miss Ann Perkins, a rising Metropolitan opera star, played by Mrs. Thomas Crosby, gracefully ignored her and later won the man they both desired. The climax comes when a massed chorus from next door, Mrs. Keith Parris, shouts "fire" and everyone rushes out leaving the Jewish customer, played by Mrs. Walter B. Rector, under the permanent wave machine with the operator, Mrs. Harkins, struggling to extricate her. Another customer, Mrs. Hemenway, portrayed by Mrs. Payson LeBaron, also stays to help. The operator so appreciates the assistance that she confesses having dated Mrs. Hemenway's husband, but explains that it was a casual date and nothing to be jealous of. She points out that glamour girls like herself have nothing to offer in the end. Their beauty is "Skin Deep". When that is gone, she says, "What have you got?" Mrs. Hemenway, who knew about the date, is so relieved, that she decides to abandon the plan of beautifying herself with a new hair rinse and just have her usual shampoo and wave.

THE RESOURCE FOR ADEQUATE LIVING IN OUR DAY

A Sermon by the Rev. Orrin L. Kosmo

Most everybody desires to live a fulfilled life. People want their lives to be meaningful, rich in thought and experience. People want to live adequate lives. Each of us has within us dreams, hopes and ideals, which we feel constitutes our real selves. This is the person we wish to be. We would live lives of sharing, cooperation and service, both within the immediate circle of our homes and work as well as in that larger neighborhood of community, nation and the world. Deep within our hearts we desire to cooperate in making a better neighborhood. In the light of our best consciences we deeply desire to live lives of self realization, self fulfillment; lives of achievement in our highest aims. O, if we could only live fulfilled lives! This is the inner problem of all of us, whether we keep the experience a secret or proclaim it to the skies. Most of us keep it to ourselves.

We all know how far we fall short of being what we wish to be. Very few people today are living lives of fulfillment. Multitudes feel inadequate in the face of the bewildering and what seems to be the insurmountable demands of the world in which we live. Instead of being meaningful, life is empty for countless hosts. The writer in the New Testament had some notion of how difficult it was to be one's self, one's best self, when he exclaimed, "For to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not. For the good that I would I do not; but the evil I would not I do—O wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me?" That well expresses the feeling of frustration multitudes experience in our day. Some of us know all too well what the destructive effects of frustration can be like.

Who shall deliver us? What is the answer for thousands of high minded spiritual people who would be themselves in this chaotic world of today?

I think the answer is to be found in a much overlooked insight, tucked away almost too unnoticeably in the lines of the Gospels. The gatherers of information about the life of Jesus put it down for us, to be sure, but in a most inconspicuous fashion. Apparently they were interested in sensational things; or they felt their readers were. They didn't make much of the point, but it is likely the secret of the greatness of Jesus. It is likely that this is what enabled Jesus to be himself, to achieve self realization, to grow to self fulfillment. The answer is, in those few references we find, in that habit Jesus had of going "a step further" to be off by himself with God. When there was a crisis he bade the disciples to wait while he might go off to be alone with his spirit and the Father. It wasn't only in times of crisis that he practised the presence of God. It was a regular practise. It was early in the morning, before his disciples arose, that he went off to pray. His disciples grew to accept this practise of private devotion as a part of Jesus. And though the writers of the Synoptic Gospels made little of it, this is the practise which explains the greatness of Jesus, which explains the source of the light, courage, faith and strength, which enabled the Master to live out his ideals.

It is interesting to reflect upon the fact that he who was the leader found it indispensable to be by himself with God regularly. Though he was the leader he was not above this. Rather, because he was the leader and must be most courageous, ready, and enlightened, at the head of his band, it was more necessary for him than others to practise the presence of God. And this is the way it always has worked out. The greater the leader, the greater his cause, the more indispensable that he must have the courage, the insight, the faith, to lead on. In our own day we have had one of the greatest examples in history, of this very thing in the person of the immortal Indian, Ghandi, and his daily practise of prayer. Ghandi could never have gone beyond Southern Africa if it hadn't been for the help of the Spirit of God, and this he received through his daily devotions. With the terrific obstacles in his way as he sought to lead his people, he would have been overwhelmed, defeated, early in his career, were it not that from these trysts with the Eternal he received hope, courage, light, faith, to go on. The other great man of our age is Albert Schweitzer, of Lambarene, in Equatorial Africa. The sources of his strength, of his will to carry on, is in the practise of the presence of God. These men have been able to carry on, to achieve self fulfillment, not on their own strength, but in cooperation with God. Every leader of mankind, who has sought to lead mankind upward, who has been steadfast in that march, has had help along the way. He had to have a secret place to go in order to be renewed and righted on the way. Many a reformer has started out confidently, many a person has begun the good life nobly, and has fallen by the wayside. Why? They have had the high dreams and visions. It was because they could not sustain the pace they had set. They didn't have the strength to carry on in the long march. They fell by the wayside when the going got too rough. John Bunyan, in his "Pilgrim's Progress," wrote that "the way to hell is paved with good intentions." You will note it is "the way" that he is speaking about. These people of good intentions had the right idea, but they couldn't maintain the march, so they fell before they had achieved self fulfillment. No, anyone, whether he be ordinary mortal or great leader, who seeks to live out the high divine way, cannot do it alone. Like Jesus, it is necessary to find the resources for great living.

In the very room where you happen to be, where you are as you read this, there are a multitude of electric waves passing back and forth. Of course you cannot see them or hear them. But if you were to turn on the radio where you are, you could make a selection of several programs. The practice of the presence of God is like that, for wherever we are, this practise makes available for us the light and power of God. So immediate is this presence, that it is a good deal like this experience of the poet, Walter Rauschenbush: In the castle of my soul Is a little postern gate, Whereat, when I enter, I am in the presence of God. In a moment, in the turning of a thought, I am where God is— As you open the "postern gate" it will be a good thing to take with you a good book of meditations, or devotions, or readings. One of the best I know of is called "Great Companions," compiled by R. F. Leavens. It is published by the Beacon Press, 25 Beacon street, Boston 8, or you can get it through your own publisher. There are several other good ones.

Today, we need individuals who believe in the efficacy of democracy, in the dignity of man, in the democracy of God upon this earth. But if we are to be effective as individuals in helping to achieve these aims of our inherited culture, we shall need spiritual resources on the way. In the face of the tremendous obstacles we must overcome we shall fail, with all our good intentions, unless we practise the presence of God along the way.

For the achievement of our highest ideals in our personal living, to live an adequate and meaningful life, to grow in self fulfillment, to mount in self realization in the light of our best conscience, we need functional spiritual resources. I bid you open the "postern gate" and take the step further, to be alone with the glorious company, the innumerable cloud of witnesses, the saints and apostles of all the faiths; to be alone with the Master; to be alone with God.

BIOGRAPHY

The Rev. Orrin L. Kosmo was called to be the minister of the Unitarian church of Newton Centre on the first of November, 1947, and he assumed charge of the pastorate at once. Mr. Kosmo was born and educated in the while children's features. The first week, "Huckleberry Finn" starring Mickey Rooney will be the attraction. Also on the program will be cartoons and comedies.

This new feature on the program of the West Newton Theatre has the approval of the police department and parent-teacher associations throughout Newton. Last week Harold Gores of the School Department, Sgt. Dowling of the Newton Police Department and presidents of the Parent-Teacher Associations of the Peabody, Davis, Franklin and Burr-Williams School met to discuss this proposed plan. It was agreed by all that this morning showing of special children's features at the West Newton Theatre would be a healthy and worthwhile outlet for youngsters energy and would prove to be constructive entertainment. The plan unanimously won the approval of all. This will be a cooperative program between the theatre and the Parent-Teachers Association.

with such enthusiasm that it was decided to have this repeat performance for all those who did not see it before. "Strange Island" will be presented again in Woodward Hall, Central Church, Newtonville on Friday, March 5, at 8 p.m. You are certain to have a wonderful time. "I went both nights and I'd go again and again." Ed Carl, "I enjoyed it as much as the Shaw play now in Boston." Dave Eddy, so say the critics and all who have seen this fine play.

Don't miss it. Remember all proceeds will go to the War Memorial Fund. Tickets may be obtained at the door for 72c including tax.

A howl in the rear of your car may mean two things. You need grease in the differential—or you just backed into someone. The National Safety Council asks drivers to look before they back, and not to depend on the rear view mirror.

public schools of Eau Claire, Wis. He attended St. Olaf college, Northfield, Minn., a college of the Norwegian Lutheran church in the United States. He received his B.A. degree there in 1924. Thereafter, he studied theology in the Lutheran Theological seminary, St. Paul, Minn., and in Union Theological seminary, New York city. He received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from the latter institution in 1927. He served for one year as the assistant pastor of the Lutheran church of the Holy Trinity, Central Park West and 65th street, New York city. He then undertook the building up of a new congregation in Flatbush, Brooklyn, N. Y., the name of the congregation being Holy Trinity Lutheran church of Flatbush. When he left this congregation there was a Sunday school of 400 children and a congregation of 600 individuals. This congregation served the community of Flatbush, in Flatbush, as a combination Lutheran and community church. Mr. Kosmo was pastor there for 17 years.

Feeling the inability to give intellectual and spiritual assent to some of the features of Lutheran creedalism, and growing to feel the necessity of a free mind, both for the minister and the congregation, he entered the Unitarian pastorate. He had felt a keen interest in the Unitarian church for several years and had gained a profound admiration of the history and struggle of the Unitarian church in the march onward for intellectual and spiritual integrity and freedom. He felt it was there he belonged, with his convictions and his own personal way of faith.

After tendering his resignation to his congregation in Brooklyn, Mr. Kosmo spent a year at the Meadville Theological school in Chicago, which forms one part of the four school set-up of the Federated Theological school of the University of Chicago. While there he specialized in the History of World Religions and in Religious Education.

Mr. Kosmo looks forward to an interesting work in the Unitarian fellowship, seeking his ministry to combine the beauty and symbolism of the historic Christian church with the spiritual and intellectual integrity, as well as the prophetic zeal, of the Unitarian church.

WEDDINGS

Chalek - Shelman

Miss Marcella E. Shelman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Shelman of 291 Crafts street, Newtonville, was married to Albert S. Chalek, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Chalek of 41 Harwood street, Lynn, at a double ring ceremony at the Beacon House, Brookline, on Wednesday, February 25.

The bride wore a hoopskirt gown of ivory satin. She was attended by Miss Norman Fried and Miss Barbal Chalek as bridesmaids and Miss Charna Chalek as flower girl.

Following a wedding trip to Montreal and Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. Chalek will reside in Cambridge.

The bride was graduated from the Newton High school and Boston university. Mr. Chalek was graduated from the Lynn High school and the University of New Hampshire.

Reebie - Ross

At a candlelight ceremony in the Central Congregational church, Newtonville, on Sunday afternoon, February 29, Miss Ruth Wallace Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mason Ross of 10 Bemis street, Newtonville, became the bride of Robert Seymour Reebie of Winnetka, Ill. Ferns and candles in the chancel of the church, white flowers on the altar and candles at the end of the centre aisle formed the setting for the 4 o'clock ceremony performed by Rev. Randolph S. Merrill. Miss Lillian West was at the organ.

With her gown of blush pink satin the bride wore her mother's wedding veil of princess lace. She was attended by Miss Elaine M. Atwood of Swampscott as maid of honor, who wore American Beauty taffeta and carried a shower bouquet of gladioli. The bridesmaids, Miss Ann Bayer of Rochester, N. Y., Miss Charlotte Lacey of Boston, Miss Anne Reebie, sister of the groom of Winnetka, Ill., and Mrs. Quentin Young of Newton, were also gowned in American Beauty taffeta and carried old fashioned bouquets of violets with a red rose centre.

Claude S. Reebie of Chicago, Ill., served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Henry B. Poor, brother-in-law of the bride, of Deerfield, Mass., Alan Linn, DeWitt S. Stillman, Jr., of Northfield, Ill., and Howard Scott of New York city.

The reception was at the Hunnewell Club, Newton. The bride was graduated from Cushing academy and Colby Junior college. Mr. Reebie was graduated from M.I.T. in 1943 and during the war served as a captain with the Army Air Corps.

Following a wedding trip to Daytona Beach, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Reebie will reside at Roslyn Heights, L. I., after March 22.

following night, Tuesday, March 9.

During this period since he became conductor in 1923, Mr. MacLean has brought great distinction to the club by establishing it as one of the best known male choruses in New England, and the most prominent musical organization in the city of Newton. It is largely through Mr. MacLean's musical ability that the club has won five first awards in the singing contests of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs.

In addition to these activities and the concerts for sustaining members, the club under Mr. MacLean has furthered the cause of music in Newton by giving numerous church concerts throughout the city. The club in addition to this gives a yearly scholarship to some talented student in the field of music who is a graduate of Newton High School. In addition to this they have presented many works written by residents of Newton, and on occasions have had talented Newtonites as their soloists.

Mr. MacLean besides being conductor of the Highland Glee Club, is also musical director at the Andover Newton Theological Seminary, and organist and choir master at the First Church in Newton.

The concert on March 9 has been arranged to celebrate both Mr. MacLean's 25th anniversary, and the completion of the glee club's 40th season.

The soloist will be Mr. Reginald Boardman, distinguished pianist, composer, and accompanist. In addition to certain unannounced surprises, all the former singing members of the club will be invited to join in a group of songs in honor of Mr. MacLean. For those who are not sustaining members but who would like to join in the celebration there will be tickets available at the door. The concert starts at 8:15.

where he was a member of the Religious Education committee for many years, the National Education Association, the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation, the Newton Teachers' Federation, the Newton Men's Educational Association (composed of men teachers), the Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and the Eastern Massachusetts Board of Basketball Officials. Two offices he relinquished recently were president of the Newton Men's Educational Association and referee of the Church League Basketball teams.

In the summer Mr. Read serves as Co-Director of Camp Massachusetts, the Newton Y. M. C. A.'s day camp. He is also employed by both Boston Major League ball clubs. For the Red Sox he is a ticket seller. And for the Braves he is custodian of the working press gate. "I enjoy meeting the V. I. P. (Very Important People) who enter there, such as Kate Smith, Jack Benny and Jerry Colonna. But when a World Series game takes place in Boston, I hear from and run across hundreds of people I haven't heard from in years. Yes, you guessed it—they all want tickets to the game!"

"Does this full program leave any time for hobbies?" "A little. I take in many plays in Boston as well as amateur productions. I also like bridge, puzzles, math problems and such passive form of athletics as miniature golf. And cribbage! For 4½ years we've carried on a cribbage tournament with the Howards Goffs next door, men versus wives. We men now stand 88 games ahead."

"But most of my spare time right now is spent on the Junior Red Cross program. Newton's quota for blood donations is only 700 pints yearly. It seems very small for a city this size. The Bloodmobile will be brought to Newton 7 days during the year. Anyone wishing to donate blood should call the Chapter House at Lasell 7-6000. If people everywhere take this great need to heart, the Red Cross will soon reach its objective of providing blood for all who need it in times of emergency."

One of the chief causes of traffic accidents is following the car ahead too closely, the National Safety Council says. The rule of one car length for every 10 miles of speed is good except when streets are wet or icy.

RECENT DEATHS

Frank E. Wing

Funeral services for Frank E. Wing, pioneer automobile dealer, were held Wednesday morning from the home of his son, Frank H. Wing of 20 Richfield road, West Newton. Newton Notables

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

BENJAMIN F. LOUIS

From many people I kept hearing, "Be sure to interview Benjamin F. Louis, if you want to write about another person who's doing a great deal for Newton. He's one of the youngest bank treasurers in the state, yet he finds time to help a dozen good causes. Yes, Benjamin F. Louis is a worker!"

The object of this praise is all that his friends say. At 41, Ben branch that was opened there. Banking is really in his blood. He says with understanding, "It takes all kinds of depositors to make a bank."

During the years Ben has worked up through the ranks on nearly every community campaign that came along—the Community Chest, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, the March of Dimes. With Philip Ahlin, editor of The Graphic, he helped to publish "What's Cooking in Newton," an informative servicemen's paper sent wherever Newton men and women were stationed. He is a vestryman at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, a director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, past master of Norumbega Lodge of Masons, past president of the Newton Kiwanis Club and present chairman of inter-club activities of the fifth Division of Kiwanis International. His interest is so keen in the Red Cross blood program that he has donated 14 pints of blood. Today he is chairman of the business division of the current Red Cross campaign in Wellesley.

Offices in banking circles are also numerous for Ben Louis. He is a member of the executive committee of the Savings Bank Association of Massachusetts, secretary of the Newton Bankers' Association, former chairman of the Middlesex B. Group of the Savings Bank Forum and of the Middlesex West Group Savings Bank Association of Massachusetts. A real distinction, you'll admit, for such a young bank treasurer!

He still finds time to belong to the Cub Scout Pack committee No. 23, because he's a former Boy Scout and has two fast grow candidates for membership. Mrs. Louis was formerly Edith R. Berry of Watertown. They met at a house party after college days. "She likes to read, go to movies, sew and raise flowers," her husband says admiringly. "The times have forced me to be handy about the house and do things I never thought I could. During the war my wife and I put two coats of paint on the outside of the house in a week. That's one reason I claim she's a real worker."

BENJAMIN F. LOUIS

Louis is treasurer of the Newton Savings Bank (oldest bank in Newton) and manager of its Wellesley branch. The list of his community services is amazing. Yet he doesn't think of himself as too busy to enjoy hobbies with his family. And he, in turn, speaks of his wife as "a worker who shames me!"

Ben Louis is a tall, black haired man with handsome dark eyes and an olive complexion. He's a real Newton product, having been born in West Newton and now residing at 72 St. Mary's street, Newton Lower Falls. Three men teachers in the Newton schools encouraged him and won his admiration: Paul Scarborough, then grammar school principal; Danny Koughan, home room teacher; and Warren Oliver, who taught him bookkeeping at the Technical High School. At that time Ben did not care much for the subject of bookkeeping but he says with a laugh, "Today Warren and I are both bank treasurers and meet often. He's treasurer of the Newton Cooperative Bank and past president of Cooperative Bank League and the Rotary Club. All three men gave lots of time to helping me in school. Today I seldom meet Scarborough and Koughan but I think of them often with warm thanks."

Ben went on to study at Boston University and to graduate from the American Institute of Banking and from the American Bankers' Association Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers. Numerous other courses have filled the years. But it was the thesis he wrote at Rutgers on proposed branch banking in two contiguous communities that won him advancement. And his analysis of Wellesley as a proposed branch led him to become head of the

Girl Scouts Observe 36th Birthday

"Newton Girl Scout Council's observance of the National 36th Birthday Anniversary, commemorating the founding of the Girl Scout Movement in the United States centers around the theme of International Friendship," Mrs. Dwight P. Merrill, chairman of the Public Relations Committee asserted. On Tuesday afternoon several hundred Brownie Scouts, their leaders, and parents gathered at the State Armory in West Newton to observe the 36th Birthday party which took the form of a Campfire program under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Schafer, chair-

Easter Seal Sale Must Reach $225,000 By Easter Sunday

With the annual Easter Seal sale of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped entering its last lap, Alice Dixon Bond, distinguished literary editor who is chairman of this year's Seal Sale Committee, warned today that the quota of $225,000 will not be reached unless the returns show a decided spurt between now and Easter Sunday.

"With the hopes of so many crippled children depending upon the success of this drive, we dare not fail," Mrs. Bond declared. (Continued on Page 7)

Jordan Marsh to Operate Store at Middlesex Center in Framingham

BOSTON, MASS.—Trustees of the real estate trusts developing the North Shore Center, Beverly, and the Middlesex Center, Framingham, today announced that in addition to its development on its downtown Boston block at Washington, Summer, Chauncy and Avon streets, Jordan Marsh Company will be the department store operator in each of these centers. The announcement was confirmed by Edward R. Mitton, president of the Jordan Marsh Company, who said that only a few minor points as to construction matters remain to be settled with trustees of Conant Real Estate Trust and The Middlesex Trust, who early in 1946 began acquiring land for development of these completely integrated communities, planned since 1943 to serve primarily those in Boston's suburban areas who prefer to shop by private automobile. Mr. Mitton also stated that bids had been received and were now being considered on the first section of the downtown Boston building, and that further announcements regarding all of these projects might be expected in the immediate future.

The North Shore Center, located on a 60-acre tract in Beverly, served by Routes 128, 1A, 97 and 62, will have parking space

RED CROSS RESPONDS PROMPTLY TO AID VICTIMS OF WALTHAM DISASTER

Dr. Hamilton Declares Blood Plasma Probably Saved Many Lives. Aid Given To Families of Victims, Disaster Headquarters Set Up

From the moment of the big explosion at the Interlake Chemical Corporation in Waltham last Saturday evening, Red Cross wheels were set in motion to assist in every way possible the victims themselves, the distraught families, and all others in any way involved.

With telephone communications disrupted, representatives of the Newton Chapter hastened at once to the Waltham Chapter to see if they could be of help, as Red Cross neighbors with a common tragedy to face. The Waltham Chapter was preparing coffee for the firefighters and Motor Service was already in action.

When it was found that patients could not get through to the Waltham Hospital because of traffic conditions, and that the Newton-Wellesley Hospital had taken in 26 of the men, the Newton Chapter proceeded to offer every possible kind of aid and to call out the disaster organization necessary to carry out the plans.

Seventeen men were cared for in an emergency ward which was promptly and efficiently set up. Nurses who had expected to go off duty at 11 stayed on the job until morning and within an hour more than one doctor per patient was on duty.

One of the first accomplishments of the Red Cross was to send a supply of blood plasma from the Red Cross Blood Bank in Jamaica Plain, and more came in from the Massachusetts General Hospital. As of Tuesday noon, 150 units of plasma had been used in the care of the patients. Dr. Stewart Hamilton, director of the hospital, states that although there has been one fatality among those at the hospital, there would without question have been many more if it had not been for this treatment within a few hours of the accident.

Recent Disaster Proves Need for Increased Hospital Facilities

Newton and Wellesley residents have been shocked into the realization that the hospital facilities of their communities are inadequate for disaster.

By force of circumstances, most of the badly burned and injured Waltham explosion victims were rushed Saturday night to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. But it was only through luck and superhuman effort that the emergency could be handled successfully in the already overburdened institution, according to Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton, director of the hospital. There were only three beds available when the 26 blast victims were brought in. Other beds in the 17-bed accident ward were being used to take care of the overload of other hospital patients.

And so it was fortunate, considering the late hour, that the hospital director happened to be at the hospital at the time; that all staff surgeons and physicians were reached instantly; and that this was the first day in seven years that the hospital had a full complement of registered nurses. It was only by the immediate response and team work of these and other volunteers that effective treatment could be given under highly efficient makeshift arrangements.

Newton-Wellesley Hospital authorities have long pointed to the critical need for enlargement and modernization of the hospital to meet ever increasing demands for service. Postwar plans for building an extension to the hospital, for which funds were partially raised, have been delayed because of rising building costs which it is estimated are now more than double the original estimates. The proposed addition would find the hospital far better equipped for disaster.

Workers Now Active in Red Cross Campaign

With the observance of Red Cross Sabbath and Sunday on February 28 and 29, the 1948 National Red Cross Campaign was given a real impetus for the solicitations to be made during the month of March.

A large organization of workers is now busy contacting the citizens of Newton, according to Campaign Chairman Hon. John S. Whittemore, in the effort to raise the local quota of $75,000. Of this amount 50% will stay in Newton with the balance going to the National Red Cross.

It is of interest to note that 85% of the overall Red Cross quota will go to support three main programs—assistance to servicemen and veterans, disaster relief and rehabilitation, and the new National Blood Program.

Attention is being attracted by some unique window displays designed by pupils in the Art Department of the High School, and created by Junior High Schools students and members of the Teachers' Federation Workshop. These exhibits, all related to the Blood Program, are worked out in paper sculpture with amusing life-size or miniature figures ready to donate blood, or a Pinocchio wishing that he could. They show imagination and talent.

Shops where the displays may be seen are the LaMae Beauty Salon in Newton, Rhodes Pharmacy in Waban, Newton's in Auburndale, the Waterhouse Pharmacy in Newton Highlands, and R. H. Stearns and S. S. Pierce in Newton Centre. There is still another in the Newtonville Library.

Cadillac
PRESENTS
THE New STANDARD OF THE WORLD!

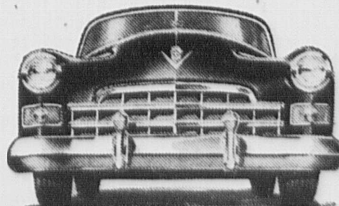

White Sidewall Tires available at additional cost.

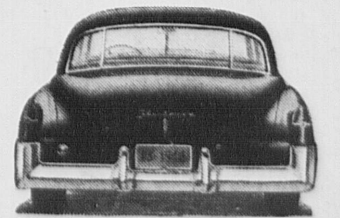

Today, the world has a new standard by which to measure motor cars. For Cadillac has taken a great stride forward — one of the greatest, perhaps, in its entire history of automotive pioneering. As is always the case when a new Cadillac is introduced, the advancement embraces every phase of automotive goodness. The exterior appearance is wholly new, and represents the soundest principles developed in years of research. Interior design and finish are a complete departure, and add immeasurably to comfort, beauty and convenience. Performance is finer in every way, for the great Cadillac chassis and engine have been thoroughly refined. And vital improvements in factory equipment have raised even Cadillac's high standards of manufacturing. In fact, all the attributes which have contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the world's premier motor car have been made more pronounced. Regardless of the price class from which you expect to select your next car, you are cordially invited to view the new Cadillac—now on display in our showrooms. When the standard of the automotive world has been so decidedly raised, it should be of interest to everyone.

Cadillac's basic characteristics of design are fully apparent in the front view of the 1948 model. Bumper and grille are even more massive. The symbolic V ornament and crest have been pleasingly refined to harmonize with new, low hood lines.

Viewed from the rear, the 1948 Cadillac shows a complete departure in design. The full-width rear window improves appearance and safety. Smart "radder-type" fenders, protected by sturdy bumper uprights, give an appropriate touch of sleekness. Note the wide, low rear deck.

Lessons Learned From Waltham Disaster

The Disaster which occurred last Saturday night at the Interlake Chemical Corporation in Waltham, points out lessons to each town and city which might have a like danger point. This explosion which killed and cruelly burned men who worked in the plant sounds a warning which none of us dare deny. Can we be sure a similar hazard does not exist here in Newton?

From the Waltham explosion, we are first shown how morbid curiosity of spectators hampered and hindered the rescue and transportation of the dead and injured to the hospital. How is it that people will be fascinated by such a macabre scene and be so inconsiderate and unfeeling as to put their curiosity above help to the injured and dying.

Second we learn of the need for greater facilities for the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Though this fine institution and all the doctors and nurses on its staff did their utmost to alleviate suffering, it can plainly be seen that when the hospital again asks money for its building fund it should be supported by all. The hospital is one of the most vital and necessary institutions in the city of Newton and should be equipped and enlarged to make it adequate for its staff to take care of any emergency.

In line with this thought we must not overlook the fine work of the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross. Right now it is conducting its annual campaign for funds and what better way could be pointed out to all that the funds given to the Red Cross are used to help right in our own community. Their on the spot assistance . . . the help of the Nurses' Aides at the Hospital . . . and immediate contacting of families proves once again that it stands ready to help at all times. The Red Cross is asking for blood as well as money this time. Many pints of blood were used to save and ease the suffering of the injured men. This blood is necessary and vital in saving lives. When the Red Cross asks for your donation remember this lesson . . . death and disaster can strike at any time . . . give your money . . . sign up to give your blood . . . so that if disaster strikes here, Newton will be ready.

The Importance of Weekly Newspapers

"Centuries ago it was said in Galilee: 'Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.' Never were those words of wisdom more appropriate than in today's topsy-turvy. Our American freedom depends on knowing the truth. The heralding of that truth depends largely on the publishing business. One of the most efficient mediums for news and advertising appeal is the weekly press.

A recent analysis by Crossley, Inc., reveals that thirty-three out of every one hundred families in the United States buy or subscribe to weekly newspapers.

But the pulling power of the weekly newspaper in Massachusetts rests on more than circulation. Unread newspapers are merely suitable as contributions to a Boy Scout scrap paper drive. The great strength of the weekly is that its contents are thoroughly read.

A recent pilot study made by the Advertising Research Foundation proves how thoroughly the average reader pores over his local paper. It made a scientific, door-to-door survey of a weekly. Its discoveries were very reassuring to every weekly editor and to his advertising manager.

The canvassers found that on the whole, men read more general news stories and editorials. But women are not far behind in their interest in these two departments. The highest percentage winner with both men and women was an article about a French bride visiting town. Second place went to an item about a local girl leaving for Germany.

But news about government rated third place with both sexes. Third place among the men went to an article about the state primary elections. Third place among women went to a story about the local school superintendent.

Eighty-nine per cent of the men and 93 per cent of women read the first page. But the middle of the paper also had a surprisingly high readership . . . 91 per cent of both sexes. Ninety-three per cent of all men and women reported that they had read one or more of the 74 advertisements and 15 sections of classified advertising.

The home town weekly is the custodian of the New England conscience. It spurs competition and acclaims merit. It is the album of memories and the link with those away. It changes strangers into neighbors. An entertaining gossip, warm-hearted friend and wise counsellor, it is welcomed at every fireside and in return gives more than it receives.

Modern conditions impose an added obligation on our weekly press. Its readers have more time and more inclination to read its contents thoroughly than those of big city publications. Because the world is in turmoil and confusion and is threatened by Communist enemies of a free and truthful press, the necessity of editorial guidance and unbiased information is greater than ever before.

(From an address delivered by Lt. Gov. Arthur W. Coolidge on January 17, 1948.)

Democratic Disunity Increases Republican Responsibility

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Disunity in the Democrat Party is thrusting added burdens upon the Republican Congress by jeopardizing the orderly operation of the entire Executive Branch of the Government.

Congressional committees daily are turning up evidences that the disintegration of the Democrat Party is being reflected in agencies of the Truman Administration.

Open warfare among the hostile wings of the Democrat Party is bound to be intensified among factions within the departments and agencies of the Administration.

Evidence that the Department of State is shot through with intrigue by disloyal persons to influence and sabotage foreign policy was revealed by a sub-committee of the House Appropriations Committee. This is said to be typical of what is going on in other governmental agencies.

Since the advent of the Democrat Administration in 1933, the Republican Party has been battling to weed disloyal persons out of the Executive Branch. Jeffersonian Democrats, be it observed, have cooperated.

One congressional veteran remarked recently that the New Deal's network has been successful in snarling procedure for purging suspected personnel except for a few notorious cases. Congress last year passed an act giving the Secretary of State power to dismiss anyone from the State Department whom he deemed to be a security risk. The House Appropriations Committee reports the Department has not been diligent in carrying out that directive.

Currently, congressional indignation is veering toward approval of a bill to give the head of each agency of the Executive Branch authority to dismiss persons suspected of being subversive or found to be dangerous security risks.

Through such legislation a measure of responsibility for retention of disloyal persons could be fixed.

The argument is advanced that if heads of departments and agencies really want to eliminate disloyal persons, the job could be done quickly, with minimum expenditure of the taxpayers' money.

MYSTERIOUS BLAST WRECKS WALTHAM CHEMICAL PLANT

An explosion last Saturday night wrecked the Makalot division of the Interlake Chemical Corp., killing four men and injuring many more. Because of crowds of morbid spectators jamming the roads the injured men could not be taken to the Waltham Hospital and instead had to be taken to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Although the Newton-Wellesley Hospital was not alerted and was very crowded at the time, Dr. Hamilton, Director of the hospital and his staff of doctors and nurses did a splendid job in this emergency. Praise also goes to the Waltham Hospital, the Red Cross, the Fire and Police Departments of Newton and Waltham, the Boston Police Department, the Blood Bank in Jamaica Plain and the Massachusetts General Hospital, all of whom cooperated splendidly with Dr. Hamilton. Since the explosion one more man has died of burns at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

55 Years Ago—March 10, 1893
NEWTON—The plans for the Nurses' home at the Newton Cottage Hospital are about ready in the office of Hartwell & Richardson. The building is to be old colonial in style, with reception rooms and bedrooms for 40 nurses. It will be 74 feet front and 50 feet deep.

WABAN—A well known dog in town some days ago seemed suddenly to become ill, much anxiety was manifested from each member of the family, including the servants. The latter, feeling sure he must be suffering from a cold and sore throat, were anxious to help the poor animal, and one of them brought a bottle of liniment and faithfully applied the same to the dog's throat and head. After a good dose of acetic the canine was tied to the boiler to await developments. In the course of a few hours upon further investigation the poor fellow was found to be suffering from an injury to his latter extremities, his tail being unable to wag in appreciation of all that had been done for him. He was, no doubt, struck by the train, as he spends his leisure time (when not in school), trying to outrun the same.

WEST NEWTON—The police report every night at City Hall the street lamps on their beats that are not lighted, and the Gas company sends a man every morning to copy the record, and to remedy the cause of the trouble. Newton is a very large city to cover, and the repairs mount up to a considerable sum, in the course of a year.

Budget Session of Board

One week ago the Board of Aldermen, having held their regular meeting on the first Monday of the month just three evenings previously, proceeded to tackle the yearly budget. Inasmuch as the numerous details of the March 4 session have already been duly recorded, I shall, at this time, merely give a few general impressions of the proceedings.

First of all, one of the eight new Aldermen had a little fun with me on account of a number of columns I wrote late in 1947, deploring the heavy turnover in the Board and indicating, as he thought, a pessimistic attitude regarding what might happen in 1948. Well, without backtracking at all on the general proposition of keeping the turnover reasonably low, I am frank to admit that this new Board is showing considerable independence and a very earnest desire to settle its business on a most intelligent and carefully thought out basis. Gone are the days when hasty decisions are occasionally made without lengthy thought and discussion. This Board takes itself very seriously and insists on knowing just why it should pass an important vote without adequate knowledge of the background of any given situation.

A shining example of this was Alderman Cassidy's strenuous objection to suspending the rules and passing a new ordinance which would raise the base for the tax-rate. It was not so much the question of passing such an ordinance as it was the enforced speed with which the Aldermen were required to act. According to the information given me by some of the key members of the Board, the Board as a whole knew nothing of the desired legislation until the evening of March 4. Somebody higher up had apparently neglected to inform the Aldermen of the necessity for immediate passage of the new ordinance. Doubtless this was entirely an oversight and was caused by the rush of business and the speed with which the budget was supposed to be passed. However, my sympathy was with the Board in its dilemma.

Then there was the question of the garbage contract, which used up quite a bit of time. After some little discussion, it was brought out that the objection to appropriating money for a full twelve months was that the present contract expires on Nov. 19 next and that some of the Aldermen who were not satisfied with present garbage disposal wished to hold the whip hand on that date and be in a position to seek a new contract if matters do not progress more favorably in the meantime. Quite logical, it seems to me.

Another point. Considering the budget for the School Committee, over which our Board has no control whatsoever, due to state law, I noted that the appropriation for the schools, including appropriations made BEFORE the budget was passed, amount to $2,365,384.00, which represents a very large proportion of a budget of roughly eight million dollars. Indeed, it is well over 25 per cent of the entire cost of our local government. And yet, our Board has absolutely no jurisdiction whatsoever over these large expenditures. In this connection, one member of the Board made this interesting suggestion to me.

If something is not done about it, we shall lose all of our elms. At the moment, the plague is centered in the Berkshires, but it is rapidly spreading eastward. Many trees are already affected here.

To arrest this disease, there are two things to do. One is to eliminate of infested trees, the FRAMINGHAM REGIONAL BUSINESS CENTER—As drawn by architect, will be finished within about two years at a $5,000,000 cost, if the town meeting approves change in zoning laws tonight. A similar $4,000,000 project will be built in Beverly.

for 3000 cars around Jordan Marsh's big department store and other buildings housing 50 stores, restaurants and places of entertainment. The tract on the Framingham-Natick line, served by Routes 9, 30, 27 and 126, is much larger and will have 4200 parking spaces surrounding Jordan Marsh department store and buildings housing more than 60 other tenants.

The announcement pointed out that the Jordan Marsh Company after long study of suburban retail distribution had decided that instead of small branch store operation it would make a complete presentation of merchandise in the largest department store in the whole region served by each shopping center, joining in the Centers many other companies representing the very top of their merchandising and service classification.

"This policy, augmenting Jordan Marsh's expansion program in the center of Boston, is a stimulating example of the confidence and strength of a famous institution which has served New England successfully for 98 years," said Huston Rawls, managing trustee of Conant Real Estate Trust. It is planned to build both centers at the same time, starting construction within six months and completing the work early in 1950, Rawls said.

Other trustees are Harvey H. Bundy, Lawrence Coolidge, James J. Minot and Joseph W. Lund. In both Centers from 20% to 25% of the tenants will be companies and individuals now doing business locally who will operate hereafter both in the new Centers and the present business districts.

All the large leases, and all but a small percentage of the balance, are for 20-year terms. One of the large insurance companies is making a 20-year construction loan.

The Beverly site was rezoned for business use by the City of Beverly, without opposition, in May, 1947, and a zoning petition, extending existing business zones, has been approved by Framingham voters.

Excluding the value of approximately 9,000,000 square feet of land, and all interior finishing and fixtures, construction costs are expected to be about $4,000,000 in Beverly and $5,000,000 in Framingham.

Except for developments in Flushing, Long Island, and Portland, Oregon, still in the preliminary planning stage, the Boston shopping centers are the largest in the United States. Approximately 24 shopping centers of various designs and sizes have already been built elsewhere and as many more are planned by other builders.

Owners of the North Shore and Middlesex Centers are working with two of the largest merchandizing groups in the United States in the development of similar centers in three states other than Massachusetts.

Other well known retail stores who are joining the Jordan Marsh Company in the new regional shopping centers will be announced shortly, with further details regarding Jordan Marsh's new department stores, circular buildings with specially designed domes to eliminate columns and permit large uninterrupted sales areas.

"Guidance in the Newton School" was the topic under discussion at the meeting of the Bowen PTA on Tuesday evening, March 9. Mrs. Frances Forgie and Mr. Arthur Howard of the Guidance Department of the Weeks Junior High, were the speakers of the evening.

National Blood Program of Red Cross Speeded Up

Our local Red Cross, headed by Charles B. Floyd, did not know when it was in the process of launching its part of the new national blood program, that disaster would strike so quickly right here in our neighboring city of Waltham. Last Saturday's terrific explosion in a plastic plant put immediate pressure on our entire Red Cross staff, many of whom, together with top executives, spent most of Sunday at the Newton Hospital.

Why did the national Red Cross decide to launch a national blood program at this time? There were seven determining factors, as follows: (1) Recent advances in medical knowledge derived from research indicate the necessity for a wider use of blood and blood products in medicine, surgery and disease prevention. (2) The supply of war surplus plasma will probably be exhausted by July 1, 1948. (3) No adequate provisions have been made nationally to insure continuing supplies of both whole blood and blood products. (4) There is no satisfactory substitute for human blood; the only available source is people. (5) Conservative estimates indicate that about one person in every 35 in the U. S. would have to give blood each year to supply the needs of the country. (6) Experience has shown that the cost of blood and those derivatives available commercially is greater than most families can afford to pay. (7) Because of its successful accomplishment in the large-scale collection of blood for the armed forces in World War II, the Red Cross has become generally recognized as the organization best suited to carry out a national blood program.

And so, for the above reasons, authority was granted by the Board of Governors of the American National Red Cross on June 12, 1947, to establish a National Blood Program. Prior to this, however, 18 regional meetings were held throughout the country, attended by representatives from 714 chapters. The proposed program was thoroughly discussed and 97 per cent of those attending the meetings expressed their belief that there is a need for such a program, that Red Cross should undertake the responsibility for it, that sufficient blood can be collected from voluntary donors, and that the necessary funds can be raised.

The goal of this National Blood Program is to provide sufficient blood and blood derivatives, without charge for the products, to help save lives and prevent needless suffering throughout the nation. It is estimated that from three to five years will be required to organize the work, to procure and train the personnel,

Woman's Club of Auburndale to Hear Robert Norton

Robert Norton, world affairs analyst, will speak on "The Critical Period—What to Do About It" at the Auburndale Woman's Club Guest Night on Tuesday, March 16, 8 p.m. at the Clubhouse. Members, their families and friends, are cordially invited to attend.

Each year a speaker of national renown is made available to the Auburndale Woman's Club through the courtesy of the Newton-Waltham Bank. It is their feeling that such an effort will better enable people to form intelligent opinions in regard to matters affecting our national economy, and that an enlightened public opinion is necessary to preserve our democratic form of government.

Mr. Norton is well known to audiences throughout the country for his deep insight into what is happening in the world, and for his ability to cut through the confusion and propaganda of the day's news and set forth in simple clarity what the real conflicts and trends are. Moreover, he offers important suggestions as to what we, as John Q. Public, can do to influence the outcome.

Mrs. Howard P. Converse is the Day Chairman. Mrs. Rufus Estabrook will serve as hostess at the refreshment table, assisted by: Mrs. Frank Pinkham, Mrs. Leon Rose, Mrs. William Swallow, Mrs. Stephen Simpson, Mrs. John Kingston, Mrs. John Hogan, Mrs. James Whitman.

Red Cross Nursing Class, Starting March 29 Available to all Women

MRS. EDYTH MORRILL, Home Nursing Instructor, demonstrates an attractive nourishment tray and how to serve it on an improvised bed table. Mrs. James E. Lawless acts as the patient while Mrs. Lester Deneault looks on.

Every home is exposed to illness at some time, and for this reason every homemaker should know certain nursing skills. These skills are learned by taking a Red Cross Home Nursing class, which is taught by professional nurses to people interested in simple nursing care of the sick in their own homes.

This knowledge is not only good insurance against the time when illness comes to a home—it will be valuable in times of serious disaster and in epidemics such as influenza and infantile and to provide equipment for the centers needed to serve our vast country. It is quite possible that not more than 20 or 25 centers will be put in operation the first year. To start with, a center will be placed in each of the five areas.

nurses. Gray Ladies were also on hand to serve as receptionists.

The telephones in the Red Cross offices were manned by Staff Aides. There were countless questions to be answered from worried families and friends, offers of help, and problems to be met relating to volunteer coverage. Other Staff Aides were busy typing.

Registration and Information was handled by James Reynolds, and Mrs. Edith Chase who contacted all chapters in the home towns of the victims, alerting them to be ready to assist families where needed. Also on the job was Norman Mitchell, investigator for the veterans' organizations.

Motor Service stood ready for assignments at all times. The chairman and vice-chairman were on 24-hour call, sometimes on active duty for fifteen hours at a stretch. When a patient took a turn for the worse and the hospital felt it advisable for the wife to be sent for, some Motor Service driver was ready to take her to the bedside at any hour of day or night. Nurses were picked up from surrounding communities and medical supplies brought in, such as additional tanks of oxygen and surgical equipment.

Deep appreciation was felt for the helpful service furnished by police of Waltham, Boston and Newton in locating addresses, supplying escort and assisting cars which were hampered by bad driving conditions.

Wellesley Chapter offered its services and is taking a very active part in all the volunteer services. The Boston Chapter also helped out.

At the request of the hospital, Red Cross asked for volunteer help from a number of able-bodied men who could fill in wherever needed to help the hospital in assuming the extra burdens which had fallen upon it. During the nights this group, many of whom were Boy Scout leaders, was asked to perform many different tasks.

The Director of the operation is Mr. Victor Passage of the

WHY THE RED CROSS NEEDS YOUR HELP IN 1948

Report on 1947:
Miracles of mercy which never could be done without your dollars . . .

1 REMEMBER THE FLOODS? In 50 different floods, the Red Cross saved countless lives by helping to evacuate affected families, by sheltering, feeding, clothing, providing medical care and rehabilitation for thousands of stricken people.

4 VETERANS HAD PROBLEMS. The birth of a baby, death in the family, help needed to pay bills—2,029,007 cases for veterans and their dependents were handled by the Red Cross last year. For counsel, information, financial aid, the Red Cross advanced $6,441,983.

7 THE NEEDY WERE CLOTHED. Red Cross volunteers produced 2,480,600 garments, 84,500 layettes, and quantities of surgical dressings. The articles were gratefully used in disaster areas, in community institutions, in civilian, military and naval hospitals.

10 BLOOD SAVED LIVES. Your Red Cross brought the miracle of blood to many of those in need. Now, a new Red Cross program is on the way—eventually to make blood and its derivatives available to all without cost for the product.

2 REMEMBER THE FIRES? The Red Cross aided 161 times at fires in forests, hotels, tenements, homes. It spent $1,250,000 in one fire alone to ease the suffering, restore health through hospital and medical care, provide shelter, revive hope for the homeless families.

5 VETERANS NEEDED CARE. In Veterans Administration offices, the Red Cross served 1,095,832 cases involving claims, dependents, personal problems. Over 12,000 Red Cross hospital volunteers cheered veterans with entertainment, companionship, instruction.

8 THE SICK WERE CARED FOR. Red Cross instruction in care of the sick, mother and baby care, and family health brought vital protection to countless homes in many communities. Over 2 million home nursing certificates have now been issued by the Red Cross.

SOMEONE near you, someone dear to you . . . perhaps you yourself . . . will benefit in 1948 from the humanitarian services of your American Red Cross.

There is no nobler aim of mankind than this . . . the never-ending task of solacing, healing, helping those in need.

There is no investment that pays you back so many times over . . . as your contribution to the 1948 Red Cross Fund.

Again this year, be proud . . . and grateful . . . to give what you can.

Concert To Establish Chamber Music Fund At High School April 30

LUKAS FOSS, composer, conductor, pianist, who will appear as a soloist at the Chamber Music Concert at the High School April 30.

For the past four years Newton parents have been receiving variously phrased reports, all enthusiastic, from the high school children who have listened to the Zimber String Quartet conducted by its cellist and founder, Josef Zimber. In an arrangement with the Newton High School music department, programs of chamber music were given gratis to students, with well-known commentators such as Mr. Rudolph Elie of the Boston Herald, to introduce them to this intimate kind of music. Soloists illustrating ancient instruments have also been presented at various times. The results have been gratifying that it is now an integral part of the high school program and to insure its existence on a city-wide basis, a yearly concert is planned to acquaint Newton residents with its purpose.

This first concert, to establish the Newton Chamber Music fund, will be held on Friday evening, April 30, at the Newton High School Auditorium. It will feature the Zimber String Quartet, whose ensemble is composed of twelve members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and the brilliant young composer and conductor, Lukas Foss, official pianist of the Boston Symphony, as soloist in Bach's Brandenburg Concerto. Arrangements for the concert are in the hands of Mrs. Mark F. Lesses and Miss Mary A. Clarke, co-chairman, assisted by Mr. John W. Stokes, Mrs. Thompson Stone, and Mrs. Felix W. Knauth.

The advance list of patrons is headed by Mayor and Mrs. Theodore R. Lockwood, Dr. Serge Koussevitzky, who has shown a great interest in this experiment, Dr. and Mrs. Homer Anderson, Mr. James Remley, Mr. Raymond A. Green, and Mr. Henry Lasker. A Second Campfire program for Intermediate Girl Scouts was held on Thursday afternoon also at the Armory, and Troop 10 under the leadership of Mrs. Alveda Montgomery and Troop 64 under the leadership of Mrs. James Kirwan together with Vasante Asirvartham, a student from India, at Wellesley College added to the International theme, said Mrs. Merrill.

The most important feature of the afternoon's program was the gathering of the International Friendship contributions, contained in bags placed by each troop on the campfire, around which the program was staged. Newton Scouts' efforts to build warm friendships among the children of Europe is being further promoted, pointed out Mrs. Merrill by a window display at Barrows in West Newton, showing two completed clothing kits ready to be sent through the Friends' Service Committee, to Europe. Further details about the Girl Scout Clothing Kit Project will be broadcast over station WCRB at 3 o'clock on Friday, March 12, by troop 132 under the leadership of Miss Ursula Hayden. And finally, said Mrs. Merrill, many Troop Projects, illustrative, too, of the International Friendship interest and efforts of Newton Girl Scouts are on display at the Free Library at Newton Corner during the Birthday Week.

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS Middlesex, ss. LAND COURT

To the Honorable the Judges of the Land Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Respectfully represents Edmonds P. Lingham, Surveyor, recorded with Middlesex, ss. and said Commonwealth, that Edmonds P. Lingham and George H. Sullivan, his partner, recorded with Middlesex, ss. and said Commonwealth, as joint tenants, both of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Newton, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, bounded and described as follows:

NORTHEASTERLY by Canterbury Road, formerly Padstow Avenue, seventy (70) feet, more or less; SOUTHERLY by said Canterbury Road, a portion of Lot 13, as shown on a plan hereinafter mentioned, fifty (50) feet, more or less; SOUTHWESTERLY by Lot 12 and land owned by said Edmonds P. Lingham and George H. Sullivan, seventy and eighty-nine (70-89) feet, more or less; and NORTHEASTERLY by Lot 15, as shown on said plan, eighty-eight and 94/100 (88.94) feet, more or less, and being Lot 14 and a portion of Lot 13 shown on a plan entitled "Plan of Land in Newton Highlands belonging to George W. Dickerman," dated April, 1929 by E. S. Sullivan, Surveyor, recorded with Middlesex, ss. District Deeds in Plan Book 189 as Plan 23.

And title to said lot of land is clouded by a mortgage given by Gertrude M. Roberts to William J. Cote, dated 28, 1924, and duly recorded Book 473, Page 190, purporting to secure a note for an unpaid balance of $100.00, due three years from said date, with interest annually, which mortgage appears to be undischarged, unassigned and unforfeited on and by the record.

That for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited for the full performance of said condition no payment has been made and no other act done in recognition of said mortgage; and That the mortgagor named in said mortgage and those claiming under her have been in uninterrupted possession of said land for more than twenty years after the expiration of the time limited in said mortgage for the full performance of the condition thereof.

WIDESPHERE your petitioner prays that after appropriate notices a decree may be entered on the foregoing allegations as authorized by Section 15, Chapter 240 of the General Laws as amended by Chapter 20, of the Acts of 1924.

SCHOOLBOY SPORTS

By WALLY STRATHERN, JR.

Spring ??? Training

After comparing the reports from the Red Sox training camp at Sarasota, Florida, with the conditions under which our high school baseball team is shaping up we find that the conditions compare in no way with each other except that both clubs are playing ball.

The sunny South, with temperatures wavering around the 80s is a far cry from the freezing temperatures and winds that whistle around the four corners of the drill shed in which the ball players have been harboring. Not that the boys have been complaining at all, but these winter days are not the ideal conditions under which to start a season of baseball.

Coach Howard Ferguson will take over the ball club from where former head mentor Jeff Jones, who now heads up New England scouting for the Boston Braves, left off last year. Ferguson has a fine crop of boys working under him and if he can "make" players the way Jeff Jones can, we can be sure of another successful season on the diamond.

The boys have been working out indoors in the drill shed for two weeks now because of the weather outside. Their arms and legs are getting limbered up through constant practice and their batting eyes sharpened up through a little hitting now and then.

Of course, not much can be determined now by the coaches as to who will play where on opening day, but when the team gets out into the open we will be able to begin to guess what boys will fill the nine vacant positions.

Church League Basketball

by Ted Friedrichs

Junior High School: It looked for a while, like Central Congregational was going to lose its first game. Newtonville Methodist took an early lead and the score at the quarter mark was 10-3. Central pulled up, however, and the score at the half was 13-12 for Central. Central led through the rest of the game and won 24-16. High scorer for Central was Rowlings—7 points. High for Newtonville was Studly with 10 points.

St. John's Methodist trimmed Messiah Episcopal 24-13. St. John's took an early lead and held on to it. The score at the half was 10-6. Star for St. John's was Knowlton with 10 points. High for Messiah—Hill with 8 points.

Second Congregational rocked Eliot Congregational back on its heels with a 28-11 win. Top man for Second was Krieder who had 8 points. High for Eliot was Sibley with 7 points.

Playing again Saturday night, Second ran all over Auburndale Congregational to the tune of 49-26. Even though it was the second game that day, they had no trouble with Auburndale. Swisher for Second was Higgins who amassed 16 points. High man for Auburndale was Hill with 8 points.

The Auburndale Congregational High School team played the Caps, a confident team recruited from the by-standers, who tripped them 44-36. Jerry Burns was the star of the Caps with 20 points. Coach Yates of Auburndale told his team, "That Burns has more basketball sense in his little finger than the whole Auburndale team." High scorer for Auburndale was Flegel with 11 points.

The Gath Guards quintet moved into the final round of Newton City Basketball League playoffs for the second straight year by walloping the Mullen Brothers, 57 to 36, Monday night in their American Division rubber encounter at the Bigelow Junior High Gym before a crowd of 300.

The winner will meet undefeated Burke Drug for the championship of the division Thursday night at the Bigelow Gym. The Burkes, who won the regular-season title, took two straight games from Cabot A.C. in their opening-round battle.

Dell Ryan's players, who played under the Auburndale banner

The "Tigers" have two last year letter-men back with them this year, Bill Fitzpatrick, who held down the first base spot last year, and Bob MacConnell who did an excellent job at second. Buddy Keefe, who was second string catcher last year but did not earn a letter is one of the outstanding catchers who will be offered plenty of competition by Bob De Popolo, Fred Stephens, Henry McQueeney, and Phil Jepson, all who are determined backstops.

Those boys who are fighting for the other end of the battery and have shown promise before, on either the jayvee or intermediate teams, are Warren Carson, Ralph Fox, Walter Horagan, Joe Bibb, Dave Mellicoff, and Bob Noble. I think you'll be hearing a lot about these boys in the near future.

Of the outfielders who look good are Gino DeAntonio, Sam Fitch, Eddie Frackman, George Palmer, Dick Shultz, Clark Alvord, Bill Banks, and Paul Vonor.

In the infield we might be seeing Waldo Jones, Addison Lasser, Harold Levin, Frank Tanner, Alan Woods, Carl Chupp, Fred Fishell, Bob Kenna and Dave Stanley.

Of course there are many other boys out for the team and many of them will be donning uniforms by the first game. Speaking of the first game we are reminded that it will be April 9 at Arlington. Let us keep our fingers crossed that Mother Nature will have moved all the snow by then or the biggest snow removal job on the history of the school will take place when the field will have to be cleared for the first home game.

The Mullens were ahead only once and that was on Dick Kinchla's foul shot in the opening minutes of the first quarter. However, Bill Stanley tied it up on a free throw and Johnny Toner's foul shot and basket made it 5 to 2, before Dick Lowry closed the gap to one point, 5 to 4.

But from then until the end of the quarter, it was all Gath-Guards with Toner, Carl Raparelli, Dick Whelan, Stanley and Gene Mancino raising the margin to 14 to 4.

The second period was more of the same with Gath's going to 22 to 5, before the Mullens came back on Kinchla's two-point, 22 to 7. Whelan and Harris tallied a goal each before Ed Ryan and Kinchla came back, but there was no stopping Gath as it finished with a 13-point lead at half-time.

The Mullens never came within striking distance in the third period, and in the last period, Gath-Auburndale had the score, 52 to 30, before the Mullens scored a point.

NEWTON COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

A Series of Sermons by Newton Ministers

"BEHOLD MY SERVANT"

A sermon by the Reverend Douglas B. MacCorkle "Scripture Text: Isaiah 52:13-15"

Headlines, editorials, radio commentaries and other media successfully attract much of our time and meditation to a consideration of public servants. Their importance in the public eye has been heightened tremendously in the last quarter century by these very means.

It is the privileged responsibility of the preacher to acquaint every soul with the excellencies of a servant to whom adequate consideration has never been given. No more advantageous period in the year presents itself than does the pre-Easter season. The glory of the message of the Church breaks brightest in this memorial season, for the mind of a large section of the world is at least partially open to its claims.

Being open of mind, however, is not sufficient for an adequate understanding of the full significance of this message. Fortunately, God does not leave us unaided. He is quite willing to guide us to a full knowledge of His doings. We are not surprised, then, to find an introduction to the life and work of Jesus Christ immediately preceding the opening of that passage which has been called "The Holy of Holies of the Old Testament"—namely Isaiah 53.

"Behold, my servant . . ." If we are to penetrate to the meaningfulness of these things, God bids us to see in His only begotten Son—His own personal servant. In all of His life and in His death-work, Christ was primarily the servant of God. He came not to do His own will but the will of Him that sent Him (John 6:38). His food was to do the will of Him that sent Him and to finish His work (John 4:34). God had a work to accomplish and a chosen servant to accomplish it. We who are the beneficiaries of this work ought to know its scope accurately, for the Father is delighted with the Son's work (Isa. 42:1).

I—Behold His Career as Servant (verses 13a and 14). That the Son of God should lay aside His robes of glory and don the robes of a servant is amazing enough (Phil. 2:5-11); but the manner in which His career as servant was executed is a phenomenon of the ages. The text bids us note its course and its crisis.

Turning to Isaiah chapter 42:1-4 we find the course of His career concisely indicated. The fourth verse tells us that He had no intention of failing; discouragement could make no headway against Him. Verse three tells us that He was not attempting to make a public display the chief end of His career. Verse one tells us that His career was carried on in the power of the Holy Spirit. No wonder He was able, as expected because of the prophecies, to conduct His career wisely—that is, to a successful consummation.

The supreme crisis of His career is indicated in Isaiah 52:14. The crisis has to do with His sufferings on the Cross of Calvary. The Old Testament was clear about this (1 Peter 1:11) but, as today, people read it superficially. They missed the point of suffering! These crisis sufferings caused and still cause "many" (not all) to be astonished. The Hebrew word means, "to be paralyzed with astonishment." This accounts for His being despised and rejected of men (Isa. 53:3). Many behold God's servant in only some phases of His career, but let us follow the guidance given in this inspired introduction. A crisis was absolutely essential to this servant's career. He came to earth to die! His death was laden with purpose divine.

II—Behold His Crowning As A Servant. (Verses 13b and 15). The latent power of this servant's life and His cross-work is seen in these verses. As there was a route to His crowning, so there are and will be results from it. It was the route to it that provides the glory of our Easter message. The best commentators take the words of exaltation in verse 13b to refer to Christ's resurrection ("He shall be exalted"); His ascension ("Lifted up"); and His session in Heaven ("and shall be very high"). The route to His crowning (Heb. 2:8) is by way of a phenomenal resurrection from among the dead, having drained the cup that sin and death provided. His consequent ascension or reception back into heaven provides the attestation of His work here upon the earth.

The results of this crowning are enjoyed today by those who have appropriated His Calvarian work for themselves. In another day, yet to come, nations will be startled and kings' mouths shall be shut. There will be a world-wide cessation of the contemporary repudiation of the claims of Christ. National leadership shall finally be brought to see that all things are held together by Christ (Col. 1:17 A.R.V. margin).

It behooves us to live knowing that a crowned, waiting Christ is our contemporary. His claims are pressed with authority and power in view of His resurrection and present session at the right hand of God. At Easter we reaffirm our belief in His bodily resurrection as historical fact and as the key to the power of Christianity today. If we would live on, we must look up! "Behold, my servant."

Kiwanis . . .

Resuming his duties as manager of the Paramount Theatre after a career of soldiering in Uncle Sam's Army during the war, George Van Buskirk declared yesterday at the Newton Y. M. C. A. that, turning the clock 20 years, he would choose the ministry or the U. S. Army for a career.

Co-operation, Mr. Van Buskirk said, would solve and eliminate the world's ills today. The ministry teaches, suggests and pleads for it—the Army exists by close adherence to its every principle. During his two years of Army life, he added, the severance of family ties, loneliness and routine brought home the realization that co-operation and religion were definitely an integral part of every man's everyday.

Sketching a brief history of the Newton Kiwanis Club, the speaker said that the Club was chartered April 21, 1926 by the leading professional and business men in the city. Growing through the eras of prosperity, a depression and a World War, with many of its founders gone to their eternal reward, the Club, its membership occasionally changing, is growing and last year more than two thirds of its total receipts were issued via the Underprivileged Child Fund.

Hospital Aid Concert Scheduled For March 30th

To Be Held In Alumnae Hall, Wellesley

The Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association will hold an interesting concert in Alumnae Hall, Wellesley, on Tuesday, March 30, at 8:15 p.m., at which the Highland Glee Club, under the direction of D. Ralph MacLean, will appear.

An especially fine program has been arranged and Miss Alice Farnsworth, soprano, will be the soloist.

The forthcoming concert is being awaited eagerly by music lovers—particularly by those fortunate enough to have attended last year's outstanding successful event in the Newton High school auditorium, at which Miss Farnsworth also appeared.

Miss Farnsworth, who will sing on March 30 by special request, is certain of a hearty welcome. Her glorious soprano voice, wide in its range, exceptional in its purity of tone, and always under perfect control, invariably makes the deepest impression on her audiences and lifts them to a high pitch of enthusiasm. She is probably the most promising and popular young soprano in this section of the country, and her fame is spreading so rapidly that she is in constant demand. Miss Farnsworth has been the soloist with the Highland Glee Club on several occasions and is very active in Tremont Temple.

Incidentally, the Glee Club is celebrating its 40th anniversary, as well as the 25th year of Ralph MacLean's leadership. The club's accompanist is James Gray, whose excellence at the piano has attracted wide attention.

General arrangements for the concert are in charge of Mrs. Paul T. Babson and Mrs. Harold C. Wiswall, both of Wellesley, who are working with Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback, president of the association. Chairmen of the ticket committee are Mrs. Alexander McW. Wolfe, Wellesley and Mrs. Frank R. Clark, Newtonville. Hospitality chairmen are Mrs. Elton G. Cushman, Wellesley, and Mrs. Hubert L. Carter, Newtonville. The publicity chairman is Mrs. Harvey F. Kazmier of Oak Hill. Handling the program are George H. Wight and Mr. Gustav R. Breitke. Heading the large group of ushers will be Mrs. Paul Cummings, Wellesley, and Mrs. Edward W. Pride, West Newton. Mrs. Edwin F. Gibbs, Newton Centre, chairman of the finance committee.

Vassar Alumnae To Hold Fashion Show

Spring is in the air, and there is a great deal of interest in the fashion show, which the Vassar Alumnae in Greater Boston are planning for Tuesday afternoon, March 23 in New England

WEDDINGS

Edson - Bethke

At a candlelight ceremony performed by Dr. G. C. Goering, at the altar of the St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Logansport, Indiana at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, February 22, Miss Laura Ann Bethke became the bride of William David Edson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bethke, 2114 High street, Logansport, Indiana. Mr. Edson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Edson of Auburndale, Mass.

The bride wore a navy blue suit with a corsage of carnations. She was attended by Miss Barbara Billman of Logansport who wore a black tailored suit with gardenias. Mrs. Bethke chose a soft gray dress with a corsage of white carnations.

John Bethke Jr., brother of the bride attended the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple received friends at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride attended Purdue University after being graduated from Logansport High School. She is a member of the Nu Phi Mu Sorority and the Order of Rainbow for Girls. Mr. Edson is a graduate of Newton High School, and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y. He served with the navy as an ensign during the war. Afterward he did post graduate work at Purdue University. He is now employed by the New York Central Railroad.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Edson expect to reside in the East.

Auburndale Club Players

The advance sale of tickets for "Arsenic and Old Lace," scheduled for April 9 and 10, indicates an early sell-out with the list of sponsors growing daily. Anyone interested in dramatic activity is invited to become a sponsor by buying six tickets at 90c each from Boo Amidon, Oakie Harkins, Joe Jordan or Harry Thompson. As an added feature at the concluding performance, a washing machine and radio will be awarded the lucky winner.

Construction of the set is already under way under the able guidance of Fred Stearns, who has been stage manager at the club for 20 years and is an acknowledged authority in his field. Charles McKenzie and Arthur Furish are his assistants. Kathryn Wilson and an able committee will be in charge of hand properties, while Helen Ufford will be line director.

The players are most fortunate in having at their disposal one of the most complete little theater stages in this locality, a factor which facilitates rehearsals and ensures a smooth performance. An interesting feature of the play is the fact that the two leading roles will be enacted by a past president, Mrs. Edward B. Gray, and a present president, Mrs. Darrah L. Higgins, of the Auburndale Woman's Club. Mr. Robert Reed is directing "Arsenic and Old Lace," and Carl Bergstedt is business manager.

The next meeting of the players will be held Wednesday, Feb. 25 with Helen Terkelsen presiding, and Marge Friedrichs in charge of the program.

Mutual Hall on Clarendon Street. The proceeds will go to the Scholarship Fund, which each year helps to send two Boston girls to Vassar. The fashion show will be done by Bonwit Teller and will have New York models.

Among the Newton residents who have already taken tickets are Mrs. Robert P. Ashley, Mrs. William P. Beetham, Mrs. H. Bigelow Emerson, Miss Enid Fessenden, Mrs. Lloyd D. H. Anderson, Mrs. Chester L. Mrs. Frank J. Woodward

Funeral service for Mrs. Frank J. Woodward, missionary of the American Board of Foreign Missions in the Philippine Islands who died Sunday, March 7, in West Newton, were held Wednesday afternoon March 10 in the Auburndale Congregational Church, Auburndale, with Dr. Alden Hyde Clark officiating.

Mrs. Woodward was in the Philippine Islands at the time of Pearl Harbor and was a civilian prisoner of war interned in Davao and Santo Tomas, Manila, for over three years. During her imprisonment, although frail and often ill, she carried on her share of duties and was especially active in the religious life of the camp encouraging her fellow internees by the depth of her spiritual faith. Her husband, Rev. Frank J. Woodward was on health leave in America at this time causing tragic separation during the war.

In 1945 Mrs. Woodward returned from internment to the U. S. A. and in November 1946 turned from internment to the Philippines. For health reasons she was flown home to the U.S.A. August 1947.

She is survived by her husband, Rev. Frank J. Woodward of Auburndale, four sons (three of them in the ministry); Charles George Woodward on the faculty of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio; Rev. Leonard Empfield Woodward, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Hazard, Ky.; Rev. Frank T. Woodward, of the American Mission to Meshek, Iran; Rev. David B. Woodward of the Worldwide Evangelization Crusade, Tibet; two sisters, Miss Fanny L. Wells of 10 Sumner avenue, Springfield, Mrs. Margaret W. Wood on the staff of Springfield College, and a brother Joseph S. Wells, present address unknown.

Dr. William H. McOwen

Dr. William H. McOwen, formerly of Newton Upper Falls, and a practicing physician and surgeon in Newton for more than 50 years, died on Tuesday, March 9, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Bogner of Garden City, New York.

Dr. McOwen was in his 90th year. He was born in Lowell and was graduated from the Harvard Medical School. He studied anatomy under the tutelage of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes and as an interne at the Massachusetts General Hospital served with Dr. John Collins Warren, a pioneer in the use of ether.

He retired from active practice about 10 years ago and had since made his home with his daughter. He was a charter member of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus, a member of the Massachusetts, New England and Middlesex South Medical Societies and was a fellow of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He served on the staff of the Newton Hospital for 50 years.

Besides Mrs. Bogner he leaves three other daughters, Miss Anna McOwen of Boston, Mrs. Charles Purcell of Cranston, Rhode Island and Mrs. Louis Amiro of Dedham; two sons, Francis W. McOwen of Somerville and William T. McOwen of Worcester, 17 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held

Friday morning from the John Flood Funeral Parlor, 347 Washington street, Newton. A solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in Holyhood Cemetery.

Mary E. Donahue

Mrs. Mary E. Donahue of 22 Auburn street, West Newton, wife of Patrolman John F. Donahue of the Newton Police Department, died on Friday, March 5, following a brief illness.

Mrs. Donahue was in her 57th year. She was born in Newton, the daughter of Edward J. and Ellen (Walsh) Burke and had been a lifelong resident of this city. She was a member of St. Bernard's Sodality.

Besides her husband she leaves three sons, Richard and Paul Donahue, both members of the Newton Police Department and John J. Donahue of Arlington; a brother, Edward J. Burke of West Newton, a retired member of the Newton Fire Department, and a sister, Miss Ann N. Burke of West Newton.

Funeral services were held Monday morning from her home. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in St. Bernard's Church by Rev. John J. Crane, S.T.L., assisted by Rev. John A. Saunders as deacon and Rev. Robert E. Brennan, sub-deacon.

"Where does the money go?"

Of course, it's exasperating to find all your money gone "just a few days after payday" ... to wonder (and argue!) where it all went.

The simplest way to avoid this exasperation is to make sure that you spend a little less than you earn. You can make sure of that by opening a savings account and depositing a little money every payday before you do any spending.

Naturally, the place for your Savings Account is this sound, long-established Mutual Savings Bank where all deposits are insured in full under State law.

Urge Letters to Congressman Herter on ERP

The League of Women Voters wants YOU to write to Congressman Christian Herter regarding the European Recovery Program, stressing the following:

1. Speed. The bill must be passed by April 1.
2. Support of the Vandenberg Bill to the full amount for recovery, not relief.
3. Passage of a separate bill for European recovery. This bill should not include provisions for China and Korea.

Fear Can Kill

Ever since Hippocrates in the fourth century, B.C., identified by name the malignancy which we know as cancer, there has been a reluctance by most people to look squarely into the face of this disease. All down the years little has been done about cancer. Because it was feared, this summons to death was treated like the spectre at the feast.

Today, because of nation-wide efforts of the American Cancer Society to unmask cancer and to cure it, people are beginning to realize that the greatest fear is that of the unknown. Cancer reaps the lives of more than 185,000 Americans every year. Now we are beginning to know that ostrich-like attitudes are allies of this disease.

Great medical strides have been made in the past two decades, and it is heartening to know that most cases of early cancer now can be cured. We must remember, however, that cancer is a sneak-thief which attacks the human body with stealth. Usually the disease is well advanced before it is brought to the attention of the doctor.

Cancer's symptoms can not be shrugged off with the mental comment, "It can't happen to me." Cancer can, and does, strike all segments of our population with equal impact. It kills one American every three minutes and although persons over 40 are more susceptible to the disease, cancer reaches into every age bracket. Fourteen hundred children under 15 years of age succumb annually to cancer.

Most reliable estimates indicate that there are at least 930,000 persons in the U. S. with cancer. Only about 500,000 of these are under treatment. The others do not know they have the disease.

Ignorance and fear normally would kill most of these. But, because America has had a great awakening to the danger of neglect, many of these incipient cancer sufferers will go to their family physician or a cancer detection center in time. There is no reason to let cancer cut short so many lives.

The American Cancer Society's program of education has shown that many lives can be saved. It is up to us now to do our part. This newspaper feels that a real public service can be performed by reminding its readers of the facts about cancer.

The annual fund-raising drive of the American Cancer Society will be launched April first. The Society needs money not only for its educational work but vast sums are required for research to learn more about cancer so that a cure may eventually be developed, and for service—providing equipment and personnel for clinics, hospitals, and for home care, dressings and transportation.

Every person in this community should feel it his duty to learn the facts about cancer (you can inquire at the local ACS information center) and to give generously to the campaign in April.

Economic Recovery of Western Europe Seen Well on Way

Despite Europe's hunger, inflation and Communist conspiracies, there is good news from her industrial, agricultural and economic fronts. Appraising the extent of postwar recovery in western Europe, Stanley High, in The Reader's Digest for April, cites advances in manufacturing, mining, shipping, and the production of electric power and crops. His article is condensed from The Christian Science Monitor.

More goods were manufactured in Britain, Belgium, Denmark, Norway and Sweden last year than in the year before the war. French factories, producing in 1944 at 41 per cent of prewar output, are currently up to 95 per cent. Italy's output of manufactured goods, in 1945, had slumped to 15 per cent of prewar; today it has climbed to 70 per cent. Dutch industry has lifted Holland's factory production to 105 per cent of her 1938 total.

War damage to western Europe's railroads included half of the entire French system, 40 per cent of the Italian, 92 per cent of the Dutch, 60 per cent of the Belgian. Yet last year, with U. S. help, the railroads of these countries carried more freight and passengers than in 1938.

The author notes a parallel recovery in shipping. In western Europe's shipyards, more merchant ships were under construction in 1947 than in 1939. The Dutch merchant fleet is back to 83 per cent of its prewar tonnage. The port of Rotterdam, "written off as a total loss by some observers," is again storing grain at almost 100 per cent of prewar capacity, and has almost fully restored its floating docks. The French port of LeHavre, rebuilt largely by volunteer labor, is handling 85 per cent of prewar traffic.

Coal mining and agriculture have kept pace, High says. Excluding Britain, coal production in 1945 was less than half of prewar; today it is up to 90 per cent. Electric power production in western Europe, last year, exceeded that of 1938.

Winter wheat plantings on French farms are now above prewar levels. Dutch and Italian harvests have made notable gains, and Norway's agriculture is fully recovered.

Advantageous customs unions between some western European countries are cited by the article. Italy, with a labor surplus, has sent several hundred thousand men to rebuild France, where labor is scarce.

The author quotes Congressman Herter as saying, after studying economic advances at first hand: "It is not to save Europe that our further help is needed, but to help Europe to finish the job of saving herself."

A Hollywood gossip was telling Ilka Chase of the knock-down and drag-out affairs of a newly arrived couple next door. "Everyone is talking. Some are taking her part and some his," purred the informer.

"And," replied Ilka, acidly, "I suppose a few eccentric individuals are minding their own business."

Let's stick to facts. Veterans' houses in the Oak Hill project have never been offered at $7500, nor have they been priced at $8000. Mr. Mullen has asserted that in his opinion they will cost the veteran less than $8000.

WABAN—Miss Mertie Heaton's "Bonnet Party" last Friday evening was a grand success. A large number were present and the sport ran high the whole evening. The bonnet trimming was especially interesting and many of the young gentlemen demonstrated that their futures should be as managers of military establishments. Miss Heaton deserves great credit for so pretty a party.

NEWTON—The out-of-town alarm was sounded in this city last Friday night as soon as the news of the Boston fire was received by telephone, and in 50 minutes the hard pull of seven miles was covered. The company attached to Engine 1, Frank Judkins, engineer, 15 men and a hose wagon, took up its position at the corner of Beach street and Harrison avenue. The men were in charge of Chief Bixby and Capt. Lyons. The Newton fire ladders performed good service and it was duly appreciated by their heroic brethren of the Boston department.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS—

NEWTON—Considerable excitement was created Tuesday evening, when the horses attached to the Newton Hospital ambulance, became uncontrollable while being driven up Washington street, and ran away. There was a patient in the ambulance at the time, who, strange as it may seem, escaped injury. The animals dashed down Washington street toward Newton, and were not checked until Adams street was reached. The glass in the rear door was broken but no further damage was done.

Now look out for accidents. The bicycle season is on again, and what with scorchers and novices, dark streets and road hogs, last year's long list of bicycle accidents is likely to fail even in the office of pace-maker for that of this year.

WEST NEWTON—Tuesday morning Officer Harrison of Division 1 recovered a nickel-plated bicycle in Curve street. It had been stolen a few hours previous from an East Boston party.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS—

George Harrison was badly injured by the exploding of a bottle of sulphuric acid, Monday evening, severing an artery in his wrist and wounds above the forehead, but for the timely and hasty action of Dr. Freeman in stopping the flow of the blood and stitching the wounds, his injuries would have been very dangerous.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note).

The International Situation

So much is being said on the radio and written in the papers about the current war-scare in connection with the Soviet Union that it is quite unnecessary for your columnist to make any extended comment. There is, however, just one important point which I would like to make right now, namely, nothing whatsoever will be gained, regardless of the gravity of the international situation, by idle speculation, hysterical conversation and immediate and constant worrying over the highly unpleasant possibilities which the near future may bring. In blunt language, let's try hard to keep our shirts on and to appraise the present crisis as calmly and judiciously as is humanly possible.

One more thought. My good friend Walter Lippmann, who does not ordinarily rock the boat, made what I consider a rather unfortunate statement in his widely-syndicated column last Tuesday. The Globe featured on the front page a vital part of his column, which included the following: "An election year, a weak President, a disintegrating administration, and as yet uncollected Republican party made it inordinately difficult for this country to do the things which the situation demands. But they can be done." It may not always be wise to lift a passage from its context, but it seems to me that it is proper in this case. Now, what Lippmann says may be true, but I see no gain whatsoever in broadcasting all over the country the fact that our President is NOT a powerful, magnetic leader and that the administration is (possibly) disintegrating. After all, if the worst should come to pass within a matter of months, or at least before a new and more effective administration came into power, our entire citizenry would, of necessity, get right back to President Truman and give him whole-hearted support. For my own part, and quite regardless of my personal opinion of our Chief Executive as a leader and international diplomat, I would support him to the hilt. I hope and believe that every staunch American would do the same.

So, let's keep cool, calm and collected and hope and pray for the best instead of the worst.

National Conventio

Speaking in a bit lighter vein, may I suggest the possible outcome of the two conventions to be held by our major parties next June? The Democrats will, in all probability, nominate President Truman to succeed himself. His running-mate, the Vice Presidential nominee, will quite possibly be a Southerner, whether Senator Byrd of Virginia or some other equally wellknown member of the Congress; otherwise, Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court. The latter, incidentally, is the choice of many Democrats for first place on the national ticket.

On the Republican side, recent developments indicate more strongly than ever the real probability of a deadlock between Messrs. Dewey and Taft, with Stassen helping to create the ing strength. Therefore, the chances of a Vandenberg nomination loom larger than ever. Then, should the statesmanlike Michigan Senator win the prize, there is the possibility that our own Senator Leverett Saltonstall might win the second place nomination. Personally, I would consider that a very strong and well-balanced ticket, with a good deal of appeal to the huge independent vote and also to those Democrats who have never enthused unduly over President Truman.

Keep The Public Informed

A few weeks ago we published the views of the five members of the Legislature in connection with their own records, their program for the future and their reasons for wishing to represent Newton on Beacon Hill. As soon as space limitations permit, we hope to quote further from the replies to our questionnaire made by Senator Lee and Reps. Spear, Rawson, Whitmore and Whittemore. In the meantime, there is one important contribution made by Rep. Whitmore which is worthy of comment. He referred to a meeting held in Newton Highlands in 1947 when it seemed desirable to get the views of his constituents and the constituents of his associates in connection with Governor Bradford's highly controversial tax program. Rep. Whitmore made the point that there was not a huge crowd at this meeting, which might well have been an overflow affair. Now, unless my memory is playing tricks on me, there was extremely little publicity given to this affair. Frankly, had I not received a personal invitation by phone a few days beforehand, I doubt if I would have known about the meeting. Consequently, it is quite fair to use the attendance that night as a criterion of the number who MIGHT have turned out to hear the Governor's tax program had there been any real publicity? I think that is a fair question.

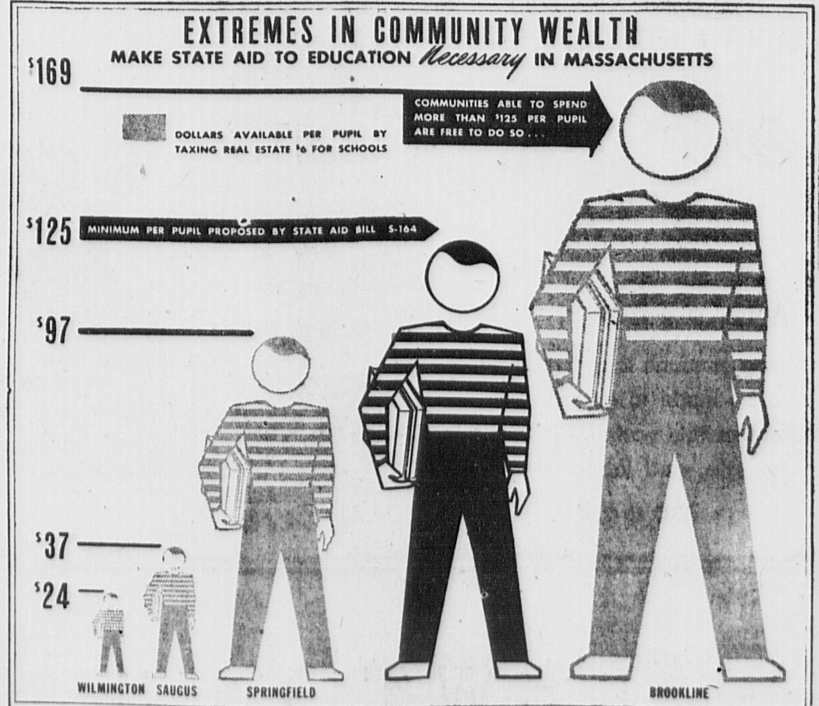

Another thought along these lines. Would it not be most helpful if the Newton League of Women Voters organized meetings in all the numerous villages in Newton at regular intervals throughout the year? Members of the League in each village could make it their business to keep the entire village informed on important civic and governmental matters. Perhaps the League is already doing something like that; if so, why not give it much more publicity?

P.W.C.

"Table for One"

On Thursday March 25th, at the next meeting of the Newton Community club there will be a contest on "Table setting, old and new". These will be set up at the back of the hall, and the judges will be Mrs. Joe Gerrity, Mrs. Harry W. Fitts, and Mrs. F. Sayford Bacon. Prizes for the best "set-up" will be awarded. This is under the auspices of the Preservation of Antiques committee.

"New Look" Proposed for Bay State Education

The Massachusetts Association for Adequate State Financing of Public Schools, at the hearing on the state aid to schools bill, Senate 164, Monday (March 8), urged passage of the legislation which would provide a minimum expenditure of $125 per pupil throughout the communities of the Commonwealth providing they tax themselves $6 per $1,000 real estate valuation for public school education.

Based on what a $6 tax would bring per pupil, the above chart graphically pictures the extremes in community wealth throughout the state. Under the school financing system now in effect in Massachusetts and without the beneficial substantial state aid to public schools, the Association testified that thousands of our children will continue to be denied adequate education.

Real estate can not carry the increasing cost of education in the Atomic Age, the hearing was told. Although some communities tax themselves from $12 to $24 per $1,000 real estate valuation, many of them—particularly the poorer rural ones—can not maintain an adequate educational standard, speakers for the bill testified.

SCHOOLBOY SPORTS

By WALLY STRATHERN, JR.

SPRING TRAINING

Another week of tedious training has passed for Newton's baseball squad. The team is beginning to shape up fairly fast into what is going to look like a good ball club. The pitchers are discovering their control once again and are putting more zip into those speed balls. The fielders have been whipping the ball around but when they begin to get outdoors they will improve greatly. The outfielders, of course, have not had much chance to show their stuff inside the drill shed but they, also, will profit when "that flakey white stuff" melts away.

Head mentor Howard Ferguson has been explaining and demonstrating the fine points of fielding and hitting, while assistant coaches Hawks and Davidson have been assisting him along that line.

It may be a bit early to start predicting lineups right now, but here are the boys who look good to me, and possibly might be wearing the orange and black on opening day. As for pitchers Ralph Fox, Joe McCusker, and Walter Horagan look good while Joe Bibb has been improving fast and might be playing varsity ball this year. We are going to find it hard to select a catcher because there are so many that are very good. Leading the field we have Danny Keefe who back-stopped a good part of the time last year. Bob De Popolo, Fred Stephens, and Phil Jepsen are going to be tough competition for Danny.

At first base it looks like Billy Fitzpatrick who played excellent varsity ball last year. Bob McConnell, who earned himself two all-star positions so far this year, one in football and another in basketball, will probably be ruling the second sack. Frank Tanner and Waldo Jones will, in all probability, share the honors at short and third. Which position each one will cover will have to be determined when the team gets out into the open.

It would be foolish to start naming persons to the three outfield positions because we haven't had a good chance to see them work out. From their past records and what we have seen of them so far this year we name Gino DeAntonio, Sammy Fitch, Ed Frackman, George (Pudgy) Palmer, Dick Shultz, Clark Alvord, Bill Banks, and Paul Vonnor as some of the more hopefuls.

Well that's the story as I see it up to date. I think that it's about time to give you the 1948 Baseball Season Schedule. It would be a good idea for you to clip it out and use it during the season.

Central Congregational Five Wins Semi-finals in State Championship

By LEON MARTEL

Last Saturday night the Junior High quintet of Central Congregational church, in quest of the state championship, defeated the First church of Malden in a semi-final game at the Malden High school. The undefeated Central team, which to date has accumulated the impressive total of 13 consecutive victories, beat their opposition, 28-16, in a hard-fought battle.

This coming Saturday, Central will go into the finals, again at Malden, this time meeting the winner of the Quincy-Braintree semi-final game.

The Congo squad, during their regular season of 12 games, against neighboring church fives rolled over their opposition sometimes by such scores as 86 to 4, 96 to 2 and 104 to 4.

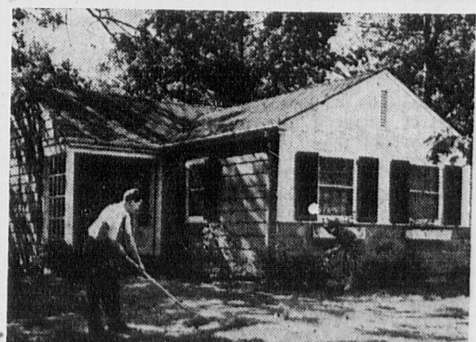

Central, which played every Saturday afternoon at the Newton Y.M.C.A., is composed of the following players: Allan Rowlings, captain; Bill Warren, Harold Crosby, David Bonnar, Robert Hunter, Simon Bedigian, Donald McCullough, Eugene Carr and Stewart Johnson. The undefeated team is coached by Colin Reid, a man of outstanding basketball ability.

High scorers so far this year are Rowlings with 169 points, and Bonnar with 132 points.

In last Saturday's game, Central, after matching Malden, point for point during the first period, caught fire and for the remainder of the game sunk their baskets with unerring regularity.

Church League Basketball

By TED FRIEDRICKS

The first game last Saturday afternoon was between Waban Union and Newtonville Methodist. This was a close game and both teams played hard. Waban Union finally won, 19-17. The high scorer for Waban was Guy who had 4 points. Top scorer for Newtonville was Studly who has been high man for his team for the last four weeks. He rang up 7 points.

St. John's Methodist took an early lead on Second Congregational and the score at the first quarter was 5-1 for St. John's. Second came back strong in the second quarter and at the half the score was 8-14, for Second. Kreider, of Second, sparked his team to victory again, scoring as many points himself as the whole St. John's team—17. Coach Sheffield of St. John's received a pleasant surprise when his team presented him with a handsome cigarette lighter.

Central Congregational played its usual game and overwhelmed Messiah Episcopal, 28-7. Messiah held them during the first half to 8 points, a mere 3-point lead. But they couldn't hold the league champs long. Coach Reed of Messiah was heard voicing his protests: "We was robbed," he said. High man for Central was Bedigian with 10 points. High for Messiah was Hill with 4 points.

Burkes Win American Division Championship

The Burke Drug basketball players, after taking the lead at three minutes and six seconds of the first period, never had more than a 13-point advantage throughout the game. But their foul shooting was the difference as they won the American Division championship by sweeping the series from Gath-Auburndale, 57 to 49, at the Bigelow Junior High Gym last Monday night.

While each team registered 21 baskets, the Burkes netted 15 free throws against seven for Gaths. The losers had to contend with the slick hookshooting artistry of Johnny Cronin, who was the game's top scorer with 24 points on 11 baskets and two foul shots, and runner-up George Delaney with 16 points on six baskets and four fouls.

Johnny Toner and Bill Pavlikowski found the going tough, indeed. Toner had four fouls pinned on him before intermission. Pavlikowski got his fourth one in the third period. Gene Mancino got his fourth and fifth in the final chapter and went out with a second left in the clutch.

However, Toner got nine of his 17 points in the last half and led the team's scoring as Pavlikowski was second with 15. Working under the burden of four personals in the last half, Toner got seven points in the third quarter and two in the fourth one. On the other hand, Pavlikowski tallied six in the latter chapter.

The Burkes capitalized on four misdeeds and came through, despite the fact that they had a tight squeeze when, after leading, 41 to 31, at 7:02 of the third period, they found themselves ahead by only three points, 45 to 42, at 3:56 of the fourth canto.

It was Pavlikowski and Toner who got the count to 45 to 40, before Bill Stanley countered on a pass from Toner to make it 45 to 42. Cronin accounted for the four Burke points during Gath's surge.

Then the Burkes came to life and matched Gath goals. So it was after 6:44 of this final period and the score, 49 to 46, that the Burkes pulled away with Delaney moving in neatly to rack up five of the eight points scored in the remainder of the game. Cronin and Jim Keegan got a hook shot and a free throw, respectively. Toner had the Gath's three.

The Burkes had a 15-4 first quarter lead. They stretched it to 30-17 at the half and 43-34 in the third period.

Petition for Sunday Bowling Withdrawn

The Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night voted to withdraw the petition filed by Albert Simoyan of the Garden City Bowldrome and about 300 bowling enthusiasts asking that the city accept an act of the Legislature making it legal to grant permits for Sunday bowling.

The board approved Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood's appointment of William J. McCarthy of 61 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville, and the Rev. Richard P. McClintock of 175 Auburn street, Auburndale, as members of the Recreation Commission for terms of 3 years; also the appointments of William J. Doherty as chairman of the Board of Registrars of Voters for a three year term beginning April 1, and of Dr. Richard C. Schofield as inspector of animals for one year from April 1, 1948.

The Mayor's appointment of John D. Wright of 14 Whitney road, Newtonville, former member of the State Board of Tax Appeals, as chairman of the Board of Assessors for a three year term to succeed the late John W. Murphy, was tabled according to procedure. The appointment would start from February 1 of this year at a salary of $6,500.

It was voted to hold a public hearing in regard to changing the city ordinances so that a hearing would be required before permits would be issued to persons engaged in plastic industry or manufacturing; also at the same time a hearing to be conducted for a change in the ordinances before permits for asphalt mixing are granted.

The board voted to grant a license to Mrs. Arthur A. Hitchcock of 24 Carleton street, Newtonville, for use of her home as a nursery school for 10 young children. The request of Mrs. Lela E. Hare for use of the first floor only in the brick dwelling at 34 Highland avenue, Newtonville, as a play school for 10 young children, was also granted.

The Atlantic Refining Company was granted an extension of time on its permit to erect a filling station at 1365 Walnut street, Newton Highlands. The request of Frank Neufell for a permit to erect a warehouse on Webster street, West Newton, was denied also the request of Sidney G. Good for a change in the zoning ordinance to permit a retail furniture store on Boylston street in Thompsonville. William Lyndon of Quincy was denied a change in the zoning law which would permit erection of an apartment house near the Newton-Wellesley hospital.

The request of Perini, Maney, Walsh and Rugo Construction companies for license to install tanks at 1156 Commonwealth avenue, Ward 6, in connection with the construction of the Metropolitan water system tunnels was granted with the provision that the license continue only during the 30 months of the contract.

Permission was granted for two oval tanks of 275 gallons capacity each, above ground, for fuel oil; one underground tank with pump, 2000 gallons capacity for gasoline; one underground tank, 2000 gallons capacity for fuel and Diesel oil. The land is owned by the Metropolitan District Commission.

broadcase dress that was worn to Lincoln's inauguration. Romantic stories come with many an outfit, such as the fragile wedding dress, made in 1820, but never worn by the intended bride after the romance faded and she chose someone else. "I never buy costumes," Mrs. Abrams says. "Some were in the family, many were gifts from friends who knew of my collection. I even found a use for 20 grass skirts. They made headpieces for characters in 'The Wizard of Oz'."

Usually snaps and buttons are not put on costumes. According to theatrical custom, Mrs. Abrams secures a firm draped effect with safety pins. Dyes and cheese cloth are used liberally. And cleverly concealed drawstrings adjust many a costume to varying figures.

Mrs. Abrams' costumes have been seen at the Newton Centennial, Girl Scout shows and many a Christmas pageant. One of the most challenging designs (she never calls them 'hard') was for the character of the Glass Cat from 'The Patchwork Girl of Oz' at a Lend-A-Hand masque. Miss Esther Bent of Brighton had to appear with a red heart that beat and with brains showing through. The outer costume was made of transparent film. A full length suit of underwear, dyed pink, simulated skin. A big red heart was sewed onto the underwear. And twisted crepe paper made the brains. At 10 a. m. Miss Bent was taped into this regalia. And when she was untaped at 5 p. m. she had lost 6 pounds!

Currently Mrs. Abrams is working on the next Lend-A-Hand show to be held May 8 at Newton High. "The Tinder Box" by Hans Christian Andersen. She is in the process of changing Biblical King costumes into Medieval Kings. There is also the little problem of designing costumes

DINING with JANE and BILL

Bill—My, what delicious bread. Where did you ever get it?
Jane—It's a surprise. You see, I made it myself.

Bill—Why Jane! That is a surprise. It's so soft—and has such even texture.

Jane—Yes, and it is so nutritious too. I bought enriched bread flour.

Bill—Enriched flour! I've heard a lot about enrichment lately. Just what is it?

Jane—Enrichment is the addition of the Vitamin B Complex (thiamin, riboflavin, niacin) and iron to the flour. You see, these vitamins are lost in the milling of white flour.

Bill—Oh, then they are found in whole-wheat flour?

Jane—Yes, they are. But most of the whole-wheat bread we buy contains only a little whole-wheat flour—the rest is white flour.

Bill—Is the bread we buy in the stores always "enriched"?

Jane—No, Bill, not all of it. But by looking on the wrapper you can tell which is the enriched bread.

Bill—Does enriched bread and bread flour cost more?

Jane—No, they don't—not one cent.

Bill—Why, that's wonderful. That being the case, I should think that everyone would buy enriched bread and flour.

Jane—Yes, and by having an adequate amount of thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, and iron in our diet, we will keep healthy appetites, good digestion, steady nerves and will cut out that tired and listless feeling at the end of the day.

Bill—That's fine. Now let's have the recipe for this wonderful bread.

Oatmeal - Nut Bread

(2 small loaves—or 1 large loaf and 6 biscuits)
1 cup rolled oats or rolled wheat 2 cups milk, scalded
1/4 cup to 1/2 cup brown sugar 2 yeast cakes
2 teaspoons salt 4 to 5 cups bread flour (enriched)
1 tablespoon fat 1 1/2 to 2 cups of chopped walnuts

Place the uncooked cereal, sugar, salt and fat in a large mixing bowl. Pour over these ingredients the scalded milk; let stand until lukewarm. Crumble the yeast cakes into the mixture. Add four cups of enriched flour; beat thoroughly. If necessary, add more flour until the mixture no longer clings to the sides of the bowl, and does not stick to the finger when touched quickly. Cover tightly; let rise in a warm room for 2 hours or until the dough has doubled in volume.

Cut in the chopped walnuts, and with a metal spoon which has been dipped into cold water, divide the dough in pieces to fill each greased pan half full. Press the top with the back of the wet spoon until the surface is approximately level in the pan. Cover with an inverted dishpan or grease the top of the loaves with melted fat to prevent formation of a crust. Let rise until the dough has doubled in volume or about 1 hour. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) and finish baking. The total baking time should be 45 to 60 minutes.

The Highland Glee Club, which will sing under the direction of D. Ralph Maclean, has probably never arranged a finer program than is promised for the March 30th concert. Assisting the club, by special request, will be Miss Alice Farnsworth, soprano, whose beautiful voice and charming personality won her such enthusiastic acclaim at last year's hospital aid concert in the Newton High School auditorium.

Another significant reason for the great interest being shown in the approaching concert is its sponsorship by the Hospital Aid Association. Throughout Wellesley and Newton, tribute is paid to this estimable organization for the splendid work it has done and open-hearted members are doing for the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Founded in 1885, the association, now under the presidency of Mrs. Ernest P. Railsback, and numbering more than 1200 Wellesley and Newton women, has each year, by means of money raised through several activities, provided the hospital with important pieces of equipment, and has also donated money to supplement its needs in many other effective ways. Included has been a very substantial sum for the new-building fund.

The general chairman for the March 30th concert are Mrs. Paul T. Babson and Mrs. Harold C. Wiswall of Wellesley, in conjunction with Mrs. Ernest P. Railsback, the association's president.

Rotary Club—

The City of Newton, which is furnishing the land, has authorized a bond issue of $1,250,000 which will be amortized in 20 years. This will pay for the taking of the land, rough grading, building of streets and landscaping. All city services will be available and the section at present B and C zoned, will be rezoned to provide for a business section.

A public hearing was held on January 26. Present were representatives for various veterans organizations and residents from all districts. At this time no opposition was registered to the housing development but it was suggested that other locations be examined. It was decided that the present site would be the most economical and practical.

Until recently, only one building firm had been interviewed but since then six others have been contacted and the department has advertised for bids. The building firm that is awarded the contract will finance the construction and sell the homes to Newton veterans. During construction there will be a rigid inspection by the Building Department, as well as by representatives from different groups to see that all requirements and specifications have been fulfilled. It is expected that the total cost for each house and land will be less than $8,000. This amount represents a value well over $10,000 as the lots alone have been valued at $3,100 each. A model house, designed by architect Albert Kreider, will be approximately 36 feet by 24 feet. The house will contain no cellar but will have a 12-inch foundation. A 4-inch concrete floor will be laid over this foundation in which will be placed copper coils to supply radiant heat.

These five-room houses will contain asphalt tile floors. Varied architectural styles will be represented in the houses because of the use of different colors, hip roofs and pitch roofs, novelty sidings, asbestos and wood shingles. Some homes will have breezeways; others open porches. There will be both two-car and one-car garages. The houses will face on a walkway but will have a service entrance from a cul-de-sac driveway in the rear. A business section will be built and a school and playground added as needed.

said, we cannot go off into the stratosphere and expect to solve the problems of the world. We must try to find a reasoned and reasonable solution.

Then he took up the power situation. Before World War II there were many powers with a hand in the decision for making war. Now there are only two, three at most if you include Britain, great powers in the world. They have a monopoly in their hands of all decisive power in the world. This power supremacy of the U. S. can go to our heads or give us a sense of responsibility. There is in our hands to shape for a long time to come the type of governmental economic activity—a moral plan for the world.

"Where did we get this power?" said Mr. Norton. He then went on to point out this power grew out of not only the material successes but also moral and spiritual development of the country. He said, we came into this modern period with more experience in actual democracy than any other nation in the world. We have principles and we have power to apply to the situation.

Mr. Norton then went on to cite what America had done in taking the initiative to try to re-shape the world as a better place to live. A plan for world trade, free access to world markets, establishment of a world bank and world fund under United Nations, UNRA, all were instituted by America. We had a plan for world weakness, a development for world security.

What has happened? He pointed out a complete reversal of policy, culminating in the March 11th order in Germany to halt the dissolution of heavy German industry, with the Farben industry being turned back to German control. This apparently stems from the assumed ground of fear of the Soviet Union.

If there is ever a need for calm reasoning it is now. Where are the sturdy voices for peace we once had in the press? Calm, dispassionate reason is the duty of Americans. 1948 should see some efforts to get together with Russia. To avoid a war we have to have a peace. To have a peace we must make a peace effort commensurate with a war effort. Is it possible to reconcile our legitimate differences with Russia, not giving up our national principles? It is necessary to do that to avoid conflict. Now is the time to plunge into peace making.

The business meeting that preceded the speaker was conducted by the president, Mrs. Darragh L. Higgins. Mrs. Thomas Cross, read a letter from the Mayor in answer to a request for information about a proposed asphalt plant in Auburndale. Mr. Franklin Hoyt, alderman, was introduced by Mrs. Theodore Friedrichs, legislative chairman, and explained the exact nature of the petition for an asphalt mixing plant on Grove street and the proposed amendment to change the ordinance so that future permits would come up before the Board of Aldermen. If that amendment is approved there will be a public hearing on this particular petition on April 8 when citizens of the town may go and register their opinion on the merit of allowing the asphalt mixing plant to be built so near the residential areas.

Mrs. Higgins announced that Mrs. Harvey Greenwood, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, would be a guest of the Auburndale Women's Club on March 30.

Mrs. Eldon V. Lynn, in speaking for the League of Women Voters, urged all to write to their representatives on the import-

The public is cordially invited to hear Dr. Landy who is nationally known in the field of secondary education and guidance. A former instructor at the Harvard Summer School, he holds a Ph. D. degree from the Harvard School of Education. While principal of the Abington High School, he was granted leave of absence to work as director of the Occupational Adjustment Study a project sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Newton High School

Last Thursday the Newton Teachers Federation, in observance of approaching Saint Patrick's Day, gave a party with an Irish theme for its members. There was badminton for those who were athletically minded and bridge for those who were not. A plentiful supply of refreshments was on hand also. The party was planned under the supervision of Miss Helene Breivogel, the chairman of the Social Committee and head of the department of girls' physical education at Newton High School. Miss Muriel Smith and Miss Tarbell, both of the High School faculty, assisted.

This year the Newton Teachers Federation has grown to over five hundred members drawn from all Newton public schools. For the first time it has an office and executive secretary at the High School. Its principal aim is to improve the economic welfare of Newton's teachers. This year it has established at the High School a Future Teachers of America Club, which is connected with the National Education Association. The club is for any student who is seriously considering entering the teaching profession after graduation from college.

The girls' Physical Education Department of the Newton High School is presenting a demonstration in the gymnasium on Friday afternoon at 3:00 and Friday evening at 8:15, April 9. Carnival spirit will prevail, and the program is to include stunts, tumbling, apparatus, exercises, marching, folk dancing, and modern dance. The students participating were chosen for their ability, cooperation and interest. There will be an admission charge. All parents and friends are cordially invited to attend the evening performance.

New Blue Cross Contract Needed at N.-W. Hospital

From figures cited today by Donald P. Perry, Treasurer of the hospital, it is apparent that the proposed change in the Blue Cross Contract is needed at Newton-Wellesley Hospital. As the new contract between Blue Cross and the hospital was signed, the hospital reported that for January alone it had lost on semi-private Blue Cross subscribers a total of over $5,650. In addition to this loss, another $3,000, or 10%, was withheld by Blue Cross from contracted payments. It is hoped that Blue Cross may subsequently be in a position to pay the latter amount.

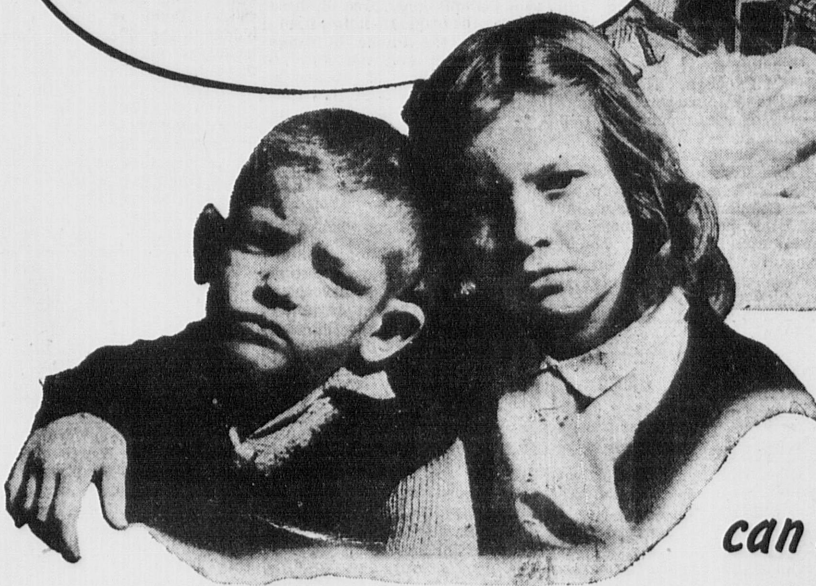

Although the hospital, an agency of Newton and Wellesley Community Chests, has continued to give service to its communities despite these alarmingly large losses, it is imperative that the new contract be put into effect as soon as possible.

Blue Cross, caught in an inflationary spiral, is revising its contract in order that it and our hospitals can remain in operation. Mr. Perry said. The proposed new contract will cover extra services to patients and pay $7.00 per day toward room and board charges for 30 days and half these charges for another 90 days. The new contract makes changes, as well, in maternity and in some other benefits. Thus, the semi-private subscriber who is hospitalized pays the difference between $7.00 and the charge for the accommodation he occupies.

DOES IT MEAN
WE CAN'T GO TO CAMP
THIS SUMMER, MUMMY?

Sometime during the night of February fourth—or the early morning hours of the fifth—four of the buildings at THE SALVATION ARMY'S "WONDERLAND" FRESH-AIR CAMP in Sharon collapsed under the weight of many feet of heavy snow. No one was killed; no one was even hurt. But it was nevertheless a very real tragedy, a catastrophe that can affect the health and happiness of over 2,000 underprivileged children.

"The Thrill of a Lifetime!"

Every two weeks during the long, hot summer months of July and August an average of 500 boys and girls (the very young ones accompanied by their mothers) arrive at "Wonderland" to be the guests of The Salvation Army for 12 days. They come from homes where life is one long and frantic battle for existence, from families too poor to even think of sending their children to the country for a day, much less for almost two weeks.

"I've Never Had So Much Fun Before!"

It is here in the peaceful woods on the shore of Lake Massapoag that these children can escape, for these few happy days, the terrible heat, the turmoil and confusion, and the depressing dirt of city streets. Nights at "Wonderland" are cool and quiet. Days are given over to fun . . . swimming in the lake, group games and the many other wonderful things to do and see at this model camp for children. To most of these boys and girls even the meals at "Wonderland" are a new and exciting adventure, with the tables in the great dining hall covered with "luxuries" such as fresh vegetables, pitchers of rich, creamy milk and bowls of berries and fruit from nearby farms.

Dining Hall . . . will bring us that much nearer our goal of opening the Camp on time. Please do what you can and please do it SOON. We must start work NOW!

Total Damage: Over $100,000

One of the four buildings which collapsed was the Main Dining Hall, seating 960. It is, except for the kitchen, a disastrous, total loss. Naturally the Camp cannot get along without this dining hall. Construction work on a new building must start at once if Camp is to open on July 1st. The Salvation Army does not have the money to take care of this unexpected emergency. WE CANNOT START CAMP WITHOUT YOUR HELP.

You Can Make These 2,000 Children Happy

We have already received many applications from parents who hope their children can go to Camp this Summer. Since news of the collapse of the buildings has appeared in the papers, however, most of our mail has been from children who are anxiously wondering if Camp will open this Summer. They are heartbreaking letters, for these two weeks at "Wonderland" obviously mean the world to them. We're sure you'll not want to disappoint these youngsters who have so little else to look forward to . . . who so badly need these two weeks at "Wonderland" Camp.

Indoor Sunrise Service on Easter Sunday

The officers of the Newton Youth Council at a meeting held Sunday, March 1, voted to have the Easter Sunrise Service held inside at 6:30 on Easter morning. It was decided to change from the customary outdoor service on Institution Hill because of the exceedingly poor weather conditions anticipated for the month of March.

A communion service is being planned with young people acting as deacons. The church in which the service is to be held has not yet been decided upon, but will be in the near future. It is hoped that as many as possible will attend this service.

NEWTON COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

A Series of Sermons by Newton Ministers

THE WAY HOME

A sermon by
R. Watson Sadler, Minister
North Congregational Church
Newton, Mass.

Text: John 14:6 "Jesus said to him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me."

Home is a sweet word to mortal ears. Its charm grows increasingly dear as we are separated from it. When in a strange land with unfamiliar customs and an ungenial spirit, our hearts turn longingly toward home. A restlessness takes hold on the heart. Just so with the soul of man. Jesus said "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of things which he possesseth." Sooner or later each one discovers this truth for himself. There is that in the human heart which just isn't satisfied with the possession of things. We are told that "the soul of man is restless until it rests in God." True enough, we accommodate ourselves to our earthly environment, but every so often something will come to us from the spirit world that makes us realize that this world is not our home. An incident that happened in the early days of my home town of Carlisle, Penn., might illustrate this.

One day a band of Indians came into the white settlement and raided and pillaged it. Among other things they carried off a little golden haired four year old girl. Every possible effort was made to rescue her, but to no avail. Years went by. There was much fighting in the western part of the state. Finally among a large number of captives was found a group of white women. There was a young woman in the group who in years could have been the little golden haired child that had been snatched from her mother's arms years before. Her mother was hurriedly summoned, but, when faced with the daughter, there was no trace of recognition on the part of either. The girl, who spoke only in the Indian tongue, said that she had always been an Indian.

She seemed to be quite content with her lot, and loath to part company with her Indian companions. It was just another disappointment for her mother. Heartbroken, the then aged and weary mother had turned to go home, when a young officer asked her if there was anything retained from her childhood that might recall for the girl her childhood home. The mother's eyes brightened as she began to pour out her soul in an old Austrian Lullaby hymn which she had always sung to her baby just as she was falling asleep. In a moment, to the consternation of all the on-lookers, the young "Indian" girl became transformed and ran and threw her arms around her Mother's neck and kissed her! Though deeply buried beneath the layers of borrowed ways, the vibrant notes of the old hymn found the true heart of the child. Just so the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who came from the Father into this world, alone can strike the chord of the harmonies of Heaven in our hearts that sets us longing for reunion with our loving Heavenly Father and home.

"How did we get separated from Him?" you ask? The Bible has, for me at least, by far the best answer yet given to that question. It goes back a long way. It is given in figurative language in some parts. As the early Chinese were wont to say "One picture equals a thousand words." So it is that much of the Bible answer is highly pictorial. Paul says in the Epistle to the Romans "The carnal mind is enemy against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be." Man came by this rebellious nature by inheritance. Jesus tells of the first rebel against God's authority. Jesus said "I beheld Satan as lightning fall from Heaven." In the 14th Chapter of Isaiah we learn why. There he is called Lucifer. He boasted he would make himself as God. Perhaps you have heard people scoff at the idea of there being a Devil or Satan or Lucifer. I have many times. But still we have the record in Luke 10:18 where Jesus Himself said that He beheld Satan as lightning fall from Heaven. Jesus is a very impressive authority. The accuracy of His statements have lost nothing with the passing of time. One is tremendously impressed with the way He has far surpassed His open critics and His subtle traducers. One can only be mildly impressed with the authority of those who try to contravert or discredit Him. The fact is, on the basis of the historical record, it would seem that they have a way of decreasing while He seems to tend to increase. Man's wisdom, the Bible tells us, is foolishness to God. When viewed in the light of bringing peace and security to the human heart, it sometimes seems a little foolish even to men. So let us assume that Jesus was right and that He did see Lucifer fall from Heaven. Let us assume that in point of fact, based on the abundant proof of sin in the world, that the story about Adam and Eve being deceived by Satan in the Garden of Eden is correct. Is that too much of an assumption? Men are still being deceived by untruth-agents of the Father of Lies, are they not? Is it not a fact that when a man goes out to commit a crime there is something that tells him that he will not surely be caught, but shall enjoy the fruits of his crime? All truthful and right minded people know that that is a lie. If he believes that deceiving voice, it separates him from society. He dies to society. Just so when God told Adam that the day in which he ate of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil he should surely die, or which means the same thing, he separated from Him. This same Satan which Jesus told us He saw thrown out of Heaven, came along and said "YE SHALL NOT SURELY DIE." We know death is in the world. Paul says in the 5th chapter of Romans, "Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned." Man thus became estranged to God. Lucifer proved to be "the way" away from God; just so Jesus Christ says in the words of our text that He is the way back to God. Yes, the only way! To emphasize this fact He says further "No man cometh unto the Father, but by me." It was said of Jesus that "He spake as one having authority." We can understand His authority or rather our recognition of it grows with every tick of the clock. Wouldn't it be the part of wisdom to take Him at His word? We are told in the Epistle to the Hebrews that He opened for us a living way into the presence of God. It is the way of the Cross. It is the Way of His shed Blood and Broken Body. It is a finished Way open to all. Jesus says "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me." Satan set up his will against the will of God and he lost his place in God's presence. Man suffers a like fate until he voluntarily surrenders his will to God through Jesus Christ.

It is not difficult for most of us who have had our own way, who have labored long and hard to travel in it to realize that it never leads to that happy land of joy and peace of which we so fondly dreamed. Does man through his knowledge of things and his power to manipulate them reach the home of the soul? Does a mechanistic or materialistic conception of life bring one to the home of the soul? I think not. We may enter the realm of Geometry through the mind of Euclid. We may enter the field of radio through the mind of Marconi. But if we want to enter the Kingdom of Righteousness we must do it through the mind of Christ. Jesus says I am the way, the truth, the life. There are other ways that men have tried. Yes tried in good faith; tried earnestly, but Jesus tells us they do not lead to the Father. And I repeat where can you find a better authority on the Human soul? He said he took the keys of death. Is there any other who has taken his body with him off this planet? His authority commands respect? He says "I am the Way." There is "A Way" that seemeth right in a man's eyes but the end thereof is the ways of death. How many a man has traveled, and zealously too, along a spiritual path which seemed right in his eye, only to discover at the end that it was the way of death! That it did not lead home. How many people have, on the other hand, come down to the end of life's journey with the name of Jesus on their lips and a serene confidence in their eyes as the scenes of earth recede and the mighty universe opens before them.

The astronomers speak of galaxies and light years when they turn their eyes away from earth out into the vast expanse that surrounds us. They tell us it takes light millions of years, at the incredible speed at which it travels, to go just once across the diameter of the universe. Jesus referred to it as a "Bottomless pit" and as "Outer Darkness." Jesus says He is the Way, the Truth, the Life. That he can pilot us safely home to God. The Cross of Jesus stands as the great lighthouse of the soul. How well it is stated in II COR. 4:6 "For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ." It is at Calvary that we see the love "that would not let us go." It was at Calvary that the light shone out of the darkness to bring us the knowledge of the love of God. This is beautifully illustrated by an actual incident that happened in one of the veterans hospitals several years ago.

After the battle of Iwo Jima a young man was brought back to the United States to be treated for shell shock. He was the only one left alive out of his company. He was taken to a psychiatric hospital where every known therapy was tried to restore him to contact with this life. He was about nineteen years old. He was a fine, clean, strapping big fellow. Outwardly there was not a scratch on him. But his mind was completely gone. When he talked, he talked to his buddies who were all dead. He ate and slept well but in his eyes was only a glassy stare. Every possible device was tried to get some flickering spark of intelligent response. There was no response. Finally after all had failed the head Psychiatrist came to the head nurse and said he was sorry but this boy would have to be sent to a hospital for the permanently insane. The nurse's heart sank within her. She couldn't bear the idea of committing this fine young life to what amounted to a living death. So she said, "Dr., can we wait until tomorrow? I just can't bear to let him go until I see what I can do for him. It may sound foolish, but it seems as though there must be some way of bringing him back to life." The Doctor replied, "Do what you can. One day more or less can't make any difference." She began to work on him. She endeavored with nursery rhymes and folk

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Rice of 92 Walker Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia Charlotte, to Theodore Whitehouse Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore M. Reed, also of Newtonville.

Miss Rice was graduated from the Katherine Dell School. Mr. Reed served for three years with the United States Army and is a graduate of Northeastern University School of Engineering.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman P. Hartford of 7 Washington Park, Newtonville announce the engagement of their daughter, Norma Joanne, to John Edward O'Connor of Needham.

Mr. O'Connor served for two years in the Pacific during World War II.

A September wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley W. Uhlman of 39 Central Avenue, Newtonville announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Georgina Uhlman, to James Joseph Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Morgan of 85 Calvary Street, Waltham.

Mr. Morgan served with the Navy during World War II.

The wedding will take place on Easter Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the Church of Our Lady, Newton.

Osteo. Hospital Women's Assoc. To Meet

The Women's Association of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital will hold their twenty-first Annual Bridge in the Empire Ballroom of the Hotel Vendome, Boston, on Saturday afternoon, March 20th at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Henri Blane of R. H. Stearns Co. will give a demonstration on "Gracious Dining," and Miss Jean Wakeling will give solos on the harp.

tales to try to strike some responsive chord in his consciousness, but no response.

Then she tried mentioning incidents from every phase of life of which she could think, up through school days and young manhood, but without success. Finally, in desperation, after hours and hours of ceaseless effort, when she could think of nothing more to say, she looked down into his blankly staring eyes and said with all the intensity of her soul: "Say, I just love to look at your face Mrs. Glover." Over and over for about fifteen minutes she kept repeating the same phrase, "Say, I just love to look at your face Mrs. Glover." There was no response. Her strength was gone. It was hopeless. She turned to go into the doctor's office to tell him she had failed. When, to her consternation, the young man raised himself up and said "I just love to look into your face Mrs. Glover." She turned back with tears of joy streaming down her face, but he had lapsed back into oblivion. But with that one ray of light to his inner consciousness the doctors again began to work on him. Within three weeks they restored him to his parents completely normal! The love that would not let him go accomplished what all the medical and scientific knowledge and skill had failed to accomplish. The boy did not realize that he was dead or separated from this life when he was talking to his dead comrades. It was only after the light of life shone into his soul through the eyes of love in the face of a faithful nurse that he came to know that he had been dead, and now was alive again.

So today, when the soul that is dead in trespasses and sins, separated from God looks up into the face of the Lord Jesus Christ, and says "I just love to look at your Face Lord Jesus," the light of God's love comes shining out of the darkness to bring to the weary heart a knowledge of the glory of God and point the way home for the soul.

League of Women Voters Want Early Passage of E. R. P.

On Friday, March 19, the League of Women Voters of Newton and Wellesley are co-operating in a campaign to push the passage of the European Recovery Program in the House. Mrs. Robert Segal of Newton and Miss Marion Niles of Wellesley are the chairmen of the drive which is being held to publicize ERP and to persuade the public to write to Congressman Christian Herter, urging him to support the Vandenberg Bill. Several cars, bedecked with banners, are to be stationed in Wellesley and Newton, and information about ERP will be distributed from them.

The League wants the public to realize the urgency of a speedy passage of the bill, and the public must make Herter realize this too. Passage should be completed by April first, which would be only eighteen days before the crucial Italian elections.

The Vandenberg Bill should be supported to its full amount of $5.3 billions, which is to be directed primarily toward recovery, not relief. The money is to be used for food, tobacco, cotton, agricultural equipment, other imports, and freight.

The League is anxious to excite public opinion in support of ERP, one positive aspect of our policy that can lead to some world economic unity.

The March meeting of the Newton Local Council of Girl Scouts was held Tuesday morning at the All Newton Music School with Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr., presiding.

Announcement was made of the new location of the Girl Scout Office by Mrs. James D. MacMahon, chairman of the Staff and Office committee. The office was moved from Newtonville last week, to 6 Hartford Street, Newton Highlands. Mrs. MacMahon reported that the new space is very attractive and ample in size and arrangement for all Girl Scout business. She made a plea for donations of rugs to quiet otherwise rather noisy floors. Mrs. MacMahon also read a Resolution, honoring the long and valuable service given the Newton Girl Scouts by the late Mrs. Harlan Ballard Jr. The Resolution was placed on file in the minutes of the Newton Council and a copy sent to Mrs. Ballard's daughter, Miss.

Progress of the Cookie Sale was reported by Miss Elizabeth Richardson, executive secretary, for Mrs. Elmer Pillsbury, general chairman, with the cookies due to arrive in the various Cookie Cupboards through the villages any day this week. Delivery date is scheduled for Saturday.

Plans for an all day training session for the chairmen of all Standing Committees of the Newton Council were outlined by the training committee with Mrs. Elmer Laidlaw, chairman. The Round Table will occur on Wednesday March 24th from 10 to 3 o'clock at Mrs. Laidlaw's home.

Day Camp plans for the coming season were reported by Mrs. J. Bernard Geagan, chairman of Quabbin Site will be used as a Because of a very large registration last year the committee is hunting for a second Day Camp site to be used this summer. In the event such is found the Quabbin Site will be used as the Brownie Camp and International Senior Scouts will use the new site with a director of their own and with advanced program activities.

Mrs. Stanley Johnson and Mrs. Stanley Woodward reported for Camp Mary Day. Camp folder is almost ready to go to the printer. Camp promotions plans include a Camp fashion show and the showing of Camp Slides in each village during the spring. The need for a year round caretaker for the Camp Mary Day was also discussed at the Council meeting.

The meeting was adjourned with brief reports from Mrs. Dwight Merrill, chairman of the public relations committee and Mrs. Joseph Schaefer, Juliette Low representative for the Council. To date $215.58 has been contributed toward the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund reported Mrs. Schaefer.

W. Newton Women's Educational Club

Robert Norton, world affairs analyst and radio commentator, spoke on "The Critical Period—Analysis of 1947-1950" at the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club held on March 12. His speech was most interesting and informative. He believes that we are at the crossroads and the decisions we make now will affect the world for a long time. He said that we should support the partition of Palestine and the United Nations and so work for lasting peace.

This program was arranged through the courtesy of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Co. and special guests were members of the Women's Advisory Committee of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, the Community Service Club of West Newton and other women's organizations of West Newton. The Hobby Class exhibited some of their handiwork. They Norumbega Council Scouters and Senior Scouts responded (in typical fashion) to the recent emergency at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital—caused by the explosion at the Interlake Chemical Co.

During the past week, 30 Norumbega Senior Scouts and Scouters served for 324 hours as Hospital Aides—on a 24 hour shift basis. 19 other non Scouter Aides, serving 82 hours, were recruited by the Council.

This outstanding "Scouting Community Service" was rendered by request and arrangement of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross.

Fifteenth Annual Newtonville Cub Scout And Scout Show in April

Radio Interviews With Children at W. N. Theatre

An added attraction for the children's show at the West Newton Theatre next Saturday, will be recordings of interviews with several of the children by Radio Station WCRB. The recordings will be broadcast over the station at 4:30 Saturday afternoon. The Radio Interviews from the stage will precede the showing of "Poor Little Rich Girl" with Shirley Temple. Selected Cartoons and shorts.

Doors are open at 9:30 a. m., and the show starts at 10. Advantage is taken by the gathering of so many children by the Traffic Division of the Newton Police Department, in presenting a short talk on Safety by some member of the Department. Last Saturday, Inspector Charles Marden spoke to the children on that subject.

The Saturday morning children's program at the West Newton Theatre is conducted by the Childrens Civic Program Committee of which Paul Maloney, is chairman, in cooperation with Joseph P. Callahan, manager of the theatre, the School and Police departments and various Parent Teacher Associations. The project is the result of suggestions made by Alderman Kenneth E. Prior, who visualized the need for an activity which would occupy the children in some of their free week-end time.

have made about forty stuffed animals and nearly as many sewing kits to be sent overseas in cooperation with the Peace Service Committee. They have also knitted afghans for the Cushing Veterans' hospital.

The next meeting of the Hobby Class has been postponed to April 2 at 2 p.m. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Wilson C. Dort, 342 Otis Street, West Newton.

Bloodmobile Makes Successful Visit To Newton

Thanks to the splendid cooperation of many interested groups, 104 donors volunteered to give blood at the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital on Monday. This fine showing is a credit to the generous people of Newton who responded so freely on short notice.

With a steady drain being made on the Red Cross Blood Bank because of the treatment of the victims of the Waltham disaster, special arrangements were made for a local visit of the mobile unit to Newton. No one wants a depleted blood bank—everyone wants adequate quantities of blood always available to meet any special demand.

Special attention had been centered on the therapeutic value of blood by the recent disaster. Veterans organizations and groups of concerned friends and neighbors of the victims were eager to help, with the result that they got on the telephone and spread the word which made the fine results possible. To everyone who helped in any way on this project is extended the gratitude of the Newton Red Cross.

Newton League Of Women Voters Broadcasts

On Thursday, March 25, from 3 to 3:15 p.m. over Station WCRB, the Newton League of Women Voters will conduct a panel discussion, dealing with the forthcoming "Conference on Current Issues" to be held on April 5 at the Newton Center Woman's Club.

The panel participants will be Mrs. James H. Lewis, vice president in charge of the League's Program Dept.; Mrs. William B. Mattson, chairman of Legislation and Mrs. Maurice J. Louis Marcy, Newton Upper Falls Women's Club dramatic chairman, who so successfully managed the presentation of "The Green Light" last year has appointed Mr. Kenneth Newcomb to coach the play again this year.

The play is now in rehearsal and the tickets will be on sale soon under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edward F. Roberts and Mrs. Antonio Valente. The publicity Committee consists of Chairman Mrs. T. R. Webber, Mrs. R. Capobianco, Mrs. G. L. Marcy, Mrs. J. J. Stevenson and Mrs. Fred Newcomb.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. E. W. Kingsbury of 526 Auburn street will be hostess at the next meeting of the Review Club of Auburndale, to be held on March 23 at 10 a. m. The program for the day consists of three papers by members, following the general topic of study for the year, "Men and Women of Our Time." Mrs. William P. De Witt's subject is "George Bernard Shaw, the British dramatist," and the other two papers to be presented are as follows: "Kemal Ataturk, first president of the Turkish Republic," by Mrs. Lucius O. Lee and "Dr. Harvey Cushing, the noted American surgeon," by Mrs. Percival R. Allen.

Lend-a-Hand Masque to Present Play in May

The Lend-a-hand Masque, at its regular meeting on March 8, at the home of Miss Eleanor Hartel of Otis Street, West Newton, heard the reading of the play for children which is to be presented by them at the Newton High School on May 9, the proceeds of which furnish a scholarship for a Newton High School girl. The play is a dramatization of Hans Christian Andersen's classic, "The Tinder Box." Mrs. Eunice Eddy Braaten, one of the members, has written the play, and composed the incidental music. The dances will be arranged by Mrs. Ernest Kuebler of West Newton. It is a gay and picturesque rendering of the familiar old story—one to delight the young people who will see it. The cast is almost complete, and the play will go into rehearsal next week.

The hostesses at this meeting, beside Miss Hartel, were Miss Margaret Morgan of Newton, Miss Barbara Joss of Brookline, and Miss Virginia Joss of Wellesley.

Music School

Pop Concert of the All Newton Music School.

The affair for the benefit of the Music School building fund, fortunate to be blessed with clear skies, attracted a large and representative group of music lovers from Newton and surrounding communities, and was termed by many to be the outstanding social event of the early spring season.

The symphony orchestra of fifty pieces presented an interesting and colorful program which had appeal for all present. David Abbott, talented young student from the violin department of the All Newton Music School, as soloist, played the third movement of Mozart's Concerto No. 5 in A Major for violin and orchestra. He furnished the highlight of the program and was greeted with a well earned round of applause.

All during the evening, pretty ushers, flower, candy, and "pop" girls added to the gaiety and attractiveness of the party, as they went about among the tables selling their wares to swell the fund toward paying off the mortgage.

Among those present and entertaining parties were Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, Founder and Director of the Music School, Mrs. George H. Fernald, President of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Loomis Patrick, vice-president, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, vice-president, Mr. Winslow H. Much credit for the success of the first "Pops" is due to the chairman, Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, and her large committee from the Board of Trustees and the Mothers' Auxiliary, all of whom worked together and were untiring in their efforts to do everything possible to make the evening enjoyable and long remembered.

The many friends and patrons who expressed their pleasure in the concert and the hope that it would be repeated another year, will be glad to know that it is planned to make the Pop Concert an annual event. Plans are already under way for one to be held early in April next year, with the High Pines Orchestra, and again featuring some outstanding student of the Music School as special soloist.

Newton Notables

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEIFFER

MRS. ALBERT P. EVERTS

It was about 112 years ago that a small, eager woman with flashing blue eyes and curly red hair went up and down the Connecticut Valley soliciting funds for a woman's college to be built at South Hadley, Mass. She wanted such an institution to be "not for individuals only but for our country and for the world." Mary Lyon's success in founding Mount Holyoke College and in training women for usefulness

Today we are members of the First Baptist church in Newton Centre. And my husband has a strong Mount Holyoke tradition. You see, his mother, two sisters, wife and daughter are all graduates of the college!

"Doesn't he serve on the main finance committee of Mount Holyoke?" I asked.

"Yes. And he's a college trustee," Mrs. Everts talked freely now. Her softly waved brown hair framed blue eyes in a face that shone with kindness and perception. "And any fame I may have is because of him!"

Mr. Everts is a senior partner in the investment firm, Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis. For many years he was a Newton alderman with long service on the finance committee.

The Everts' only daughter, Carolyn, is now Mrs. James A. Stewart of West Hartford, Conn. Pictures of her three small children, Jeanne, John and Ann, are all about the Everts' home.

The two sons are home from service in the Navy. Albert, Jr., graduate of Harvard, is starting in the investment firm with his father. Nelson Tower is now studying at Colby College in Maine.

When you look about the house at the comfortable furnishings your eyes are attracted to shelves full of cups and medals. It's a great tennis family. The tennis court at the side of the house has been put to good and frequent use. Albert had a national rating in tennis. He also made the varsity hockey and baseball teams at Harvard.

Still and all, Mrs. Everts has found time for outside interests during the busy years of raising three children. She belongs to the Woman's City Club, the Newtonville Woman's Club, the Newton League of Women Voters and the Boston Mount Holyoke Club. For many years she's been on the Board of the New England Home for Little Wanderers, driven for the Red Cross Motor Corps and worked for the Florida Normal School for colored students. There's been work to do for the American Farm School at Salonia, Greece, founded by a Mount Holyoke graduate who married a Princeton man. Through her Y.W.C.A. contacts Mrs. Everts has also worked with foreign students. And right now she's interested in an International Student Centre in Cambridge.

Mrs. Everts is actively working for the Two Million for Mount Holyoke campaign which opened under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lyndall F. Carter. Others on the Newton committee are Mrs. William R. Bell, Mrs. Stewart P. Dunham, Mrs. Clinton W. Tyler, Miss Janet E. Mattson, Mrs. Henry C. Kneppenberg and Mrs. Sumner L. Pruyne.

The greatest need at Mount Holyoke is to endow faculty salaries, according to Mrs. Everts. Faculty members have been remarkably loyal, though remarkably underpaid. Another

Newton Corner Business Men To Send Twenty-five Boys To Camp This Summer

Through the first three weeks in April, from the 5th to the 23rd the business men of Newton

Corner with the cooperation and participation of their customers hope to complete a project that will enable them to send 25 boys to the Y.M.C.A.'s Camp Chickomil this summer. The proposed plan includes sending 10 boys to camp for 4 weeks and 15 boys for two weeks. This enterprising new venture which has won the enthusiastic approval of all the business men in Newton Corner will be conducted as follows: All members and cooperating business men will have signs in their windows announcing that every 50 cent purchase made in their store will entitle the customer to a vote as to whom he or she would like to send to camp. The twenty-five boys, who, at the end of three weeks, have the most votes; will be the lucky ones. The top ten boys will go for four weeks and the fifteen runners-up will go for the two week period. Thus it is that customers and merchants alike will cooperate to send these twenty-five lucky boys on a worth while and constructive vacation!

Red Cross Workers Urged To Complete Solicitation

The Newton Red Cross Campaign has now reached 60 per cent of its quota, Hon. John S. Whittemore, chairman of the drive reported Tuesday. Returns are coming in much more slowly than usual.

Without attainment of the announced goals, Red Cross cannot carry out its commitments as the nation's agency in disaster relief plus services to the armed forces. In the light of recent serious turn of events in world affairs, it is more than ever important to keep the Red Cross strong.

The entire organization set up for fund solicitation is being urged to bend every effort to meet the March 31st deadline set for the end of the drive. It is important that solicitors finish covering their cards promptly and make final returns. Newcomers to Newton or residents who have not given in the past but wish to do so this year may wish to contribute to the Chapter, 21 Foster street, Newtonville, if no solicitor has called.

Appeal for Materials

The thoughtfulness and generosity of many housekeepers in Newton for many years encourages us to again ask for left-over materials. Odds and ends gathered during the year such as spools, stockings, beads, ribbons, tape, pieces of silk or cloth, paper dolls, embroidery materials and woolen articles are greatly welcomed. The response to this plea has always been generous and the materials donated have helped to keep many hundreds of little children busy and happy during the summer vacation.

If you have a donation, the Recreation Department will call for it at your home by appointment. Call Recreation Department Bigelow 4-4700.

Camping To Be Stressed by Girl Scouts This Year

Camping will receive top billing on the Girl Scout summer program this year, according to plans announced today by Mrs. H. Stanley Woodward, co-chairman of the Newton Girl Scout Camp Committee. Local scouts will have opportunity to go on troop weekend trips and overnight hikes; to attend day camp at Quabbin Day camp or spend one or more weeks at Camp Mary Day.

"The Newton Girl Scout Council's goal is to be able to give every member a taste, at least, of camp life," Mrs. Woodward said.

Camping has always been an integral part of the program of the 36-year-old Girl Scout organization, she stated, and special effort is being made this year by councils throughout the nation to extend camping facilities and opportunities to the ever-growing membership.

"Scout authorities have found, by experience, that camping helps make a girl more resourceful and self-reliant; helps her make friends and provides her with skills that open new educational and recreational vistas."

Camp Mary Day, like all Girl Scout camps throughout the country, has been set up to meet the basic requirements of health and safety established by (Continued on Page 2)

Above and beyond this, the one person who singly casts the most ballots for the boy of his or her choice will receive a hundred dollars in cash at the end of this inspiring contest.

Any and all boys are certain to like and benefit by such a vacation. Camp Chickoma is conducted by the Newton Y. M. C. A. at the Riverside Recreation Grounds in Auburndale. The activities that the boys will participate in are swimming, baseball, tennis, football, nature study, hiking, group games and on rainy days bowling and movies. A trained adult is in charge of each and every activity. And the boys are met at the train each morning and put on them every afternoon. Free milk is also available at lunch time for all.

Every 50¢ purchase is good for one vote, and each additional 50¢ purchase is worth a vote. Thus, if you purchase amounts to $10, you are entitled to 20 votes. The age limit for boys is from 8 to 14. Select your boy now and give him all the votes you can and assure him of a wonderful vacation.

The national Girl Scout organization, which also prescribes the standards for day camps, troop camps and overnight hikes. While activities at camp are under the supervision of adults, Girl Scout campers plan and carry out their own program, just as they do in their troops," Mrs. Woodward explained.

With an enlarged Girl Scout membership during the past year and improved camping facilities, resulting from the Cookies Sale, camping facilities for Newton Scouts will be taxed to the utmost," Mrs. Woodward said, "and 'first come first served' will have to be the rule."

Camp registration will begin April 1st—with the distribution of the Camp folders to all registered Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts, it was announced.

Usherette Chairman Mrs. Anne Mazzone will be assisted by Mrs. Kay Vlass, Mrs. Margy Seery, Mrs. Anne Giles, Mrs. Lillian Arbuckle, Mrs. Mamie Wenger, and Mrs. Jennie Arbuckle. Candy will be sold under joint chairmanship of Mrs. Donald Flinchbaugh, and Mrs. Carl Cedargren. They will be assisted by Mrs. Edward Osborne, Mrs. John Shanks, Mrs. John Melnick, Mrs. Stephen Howley, Mrs. Carlton Billings, Mrs. James Stevenson, Mrs. George Eames, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton and Mrs. David Batey. The next meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association will be on Monday evening, March 29, at 8 o'clock in the Emerson school. This will be a very important meeting as an amendment to the Constitution will be voted on and the nominating committee announced.

On the program there will be a demonstration of the latest and final word in photography. Something you have all read about and one of the top ten scientific achievements of 1947. Following the demonstration, questions and comments about the device will be invited.

It is hoped that many will attend this important and interesting meeting.

need is for a new chemistry building for the 1100 students.

Mrs. Everts is contacting possible outside givers to join the Mount Holyoke Society. This is "The Living Endowment" plan by which anyone can become a patron of the college. It's based on the idea that $5 given annually for expendable operating funds equals the interest on about $150 given to endowment. Some years "The Living Endowment" has been equivalent to the interest on a million dollars. And upon unrestricted gifts of this sort the financial future of the college mainly depends. And far, far more! For Mount Holyoke refutes the curious legend that a college education is wasted on women who marry. Instead it demonstrates the belief: "Educate a woman and you educate a family."

The course of the Academy lasts 12 weeks and includes such matters as police organization and administration, traffic control, investigation techniques, Laboratory matters and fingerprinting.

Rotary Club

The speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club was Parker N. Chick, president of Weather Advisors, Inc. of Norwood, Mass., who makes a practice of giving special forecasts not only to the New England Air Lines but to other businesses including the Lever Brothers and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, as well as forty municipalities in and around Boston. He spoke particularly on why certain storms reach us without even being forecast—a lot having to do with the upper atmospheric conditions from 10,000 feet up. It is necessary to know which way the air is flowing, the temperature, and moisture content as well.

He cited some very interesting examples of their accurate forecasting, and it proved to be a most interesting meeting and an unusual one.

Another new member was inducted, bringing Newton's Rotary total to 90. Arthur T. Gregorian, dealer in oriental rugs, was inducted by Cecil Clark after a first introduction by his sponsor, Dr. Philip A. Enholm.

Rupert Thompson spoke for a few minutes on the joint meeting of Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, and Chamber of Commerce on April 5 at the Normandie Room of Norumbega Park. As that is an evening meeting, there will be no noon meeting on that day for Rotarians.

Newton Highlands

Miss Ann Ward, a student at Mount Holyoke College, in South Hadley, and an honor student in mathematics, was the prize winner in that subject.

Mrs. Percy I. Merry, a member of the Newton Highlands Garden Club, was awarded a first prize at the Annual Spring Flower Show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Young (Virginia L. Vaughan) of Cambridge, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Charles L. Young Jr., on Wednesday, March 10, at Baker Memorial Hospital. Sharing in the honors as grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Charles Vaughan of 12 Ridgeway terrace, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Young of Belmont.

Lt. Cdr. Henry S. Colony, Medical Corps, USN, of 110 Plymouth road, has been selected for a course in neurology at the New York Neurological Institute. Lt. Cdr. Colony was graduated from Tufts Medical College, Boston.

"Where does the money go?"

Of course, it's exasperating to find all your money gone "just a few days after payday" ... to wonder (and argue!) where it all went.

The simplest way to avoid this exasperation is to make sure that you spend a little less than you earn. You can make sure of that by opening a savings account and depositing a little money every payday before you do any spending.

Naturally, the place for your Savings Account is this sound, long-established Mutual Savings Bank where all deposits are insured in full under State law.

Dr. Landy Speaks Before Large Crowd At N'ville Library

Dr. Edward Landy, director of counseling in the Newton public schools, spoke before a capacity audience at the Newtonville library on Tuesday morning on "The Well-Adjusted Child in the Normal Family." He began by asking two questions—what are the characteristics of a well-adjusted child in the normal family and what can we do as parents toward bringing about the optimum in growth and development?

In answer to the second question he advised the parents to relax and not to worry too much about a child being maladjusted because his actions may be normal and so should be regarded without anxiety and tensions. Parents tend to set up artificial standards and then assume the children are not well-adjusted if they fail to conform. They are normal as long as they behave the way others do in the same age range and in the same culture pattern. Children are living, growing organisms instead of being static and training is never absent because they learn by imitation. A child is governed by physical needs which must be satisfied such as for: food, relaxation and safety; and social needs which include: affiliation with other people, love, nurturance—helping other, egoistic—establishing self as an individual—dominance, autonomy—competence as individual, achievement—social, intellectual, athletics—acquisition and retention.

Behavior is a balance between the inner drives and environ-

Newton Upper Falls Garden Club

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Garden Club held their first spring meeting at the home of the President, Mrs. Harold J. Sprague, 24 Indiana terrace, Newton Upper Falls.

Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin and Mrs. Marian Cedergren served as co-hostesses. Following a short business meeting Mr. Henry G. Wendler, instructor of agriculture at Jamaica Plain High and Boston Public Schools, through the courtesy of the WEETI broadcasting station, gave a very interesting talk on plans, plants and planting.

Mrs. Gerard Kohler sang two Irish melody songs. The roll call was answered by short poems on Ireland. Mrs. Eleanor Bohan received the award for the most applause, a small pot of shamrock. A plant of Shamrock was awarded to Miss Katherine Sullivan for door prize and a gift of a small pot of shamrock was given to the new member, Mrs. Nicholas Tocci, of Waban. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

When parents try to improve behavior it may do more harm than good by creating tensions because they will learn anyway when they are ready for it. They are always seeking ways and means by which to gain independence and in this striving a dual struggle is with them. In closing he said that children need to be understood by parents and just taken in stride and that parents should be as natural as possible with them.

A very interesting and lengthy discussion period followed.

Miss Cushman in Concert at Woman's City Club, Boston

Miss Elizabeth Cushman, daughter of Mrs. Herbert E. Cushman, and the late Dr. Cushman, of 35 Temple street, West Newton, the well known and popular mezzo-soprano, will give a concert at the Woman's City Club, in Boston at 40 Beacon street, on Saturday afternoon, April 10, at 3:30, with Mrs. Kathleen Cosgrove at the piano. Her four groups of songs are of a most unusual type, covering various composers and periods. Miss Cushman, who has been the soloist for the last three summers in the Episcopal Church of the Messiah, in Bethlehem, New Hampshire and sang for Clarence Dickerman in New York City, has a most pleasing voice of unusual sweetness and precision of tone. This concert is being given for the benefit of the scholarship fund of the Musical Guild of Boston.

N. Centre Business Assoc. Hears McGill, Thompson

The regular monthly meeting of the Newton Centre Business Men's Association preceded by a buffet supper at 6:30 was held last Wednesday evening.

President Frederick Wood of the Association introduced Herbert McGill of the McGill Commodity Service Inc. who spoke on the economic situation. Mr. McGill warned against maintaining long overdue accounts on merchants books.

Rupert C. Thompson, secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce addressed the group and gave a clear picture of what the Chamber of Commerce means to the businessman and the business in general.

Claire Thornton and Bill Sherman of Station WCRB spoke on Radio as a medium of sales and advertising.

Mr. Wood appealed for blood donors in behalf of the Red Cross, to replenish the supply which was depleted by the Waltham catastrophe.

The membership committee reported that 106 out of 115 Newton Centre Business firms were now members of the organization. It was voted to attend the joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the service clubs and business organizations at the Normandie Room, Norumbega, on April 7.

The next meeting of the association will be held at the Newton Centre Baptist church meeting hall on April 20.

Auburndale Women's Club, Inc.

A highlight in the club year for Auburndale Women's Club members and guests will be the talk on Tuesday, March 30, in the Clubhouse auditorium to be given by Mrs. Max R. Ulin. Her provocative subject is "Today's Woman—Never Too Young nor too Old."

Mrs. Ulin is well known to many for her outstanding work in the field of International Relations. She is a member of the Committee of Wellesley Institute for International Relations and is a trustee of Armstrong Hemingway Foundation. Those who have heard her speak before have enjoyed her clear insight and charm of presentation.

The president, Mrs. Darragh L. Higgins, will preside at the business meeting preceding the talk. Mrs. Harvey E. Greenwood, President of the Mass. State Federation of Women's Clubs will be an honored guest. The tea hostess will be Mrs. Fred Murphy, who will be assisted by the following: Miss Mabel T. Eager, Mrs. Harry A. Every, Mrs. Frederick E. Ferriss, Mrs. Arthur T. Freeman, Mrs. Bruce U. Gardner, Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, Mrs. John H. Gordon, Mrs. Howard F. Greene.

Newton Groups Organize To Support State Aid for Schools

Representatives of the local League of Women Voters, Parent Teachers Associations, and the Newton Teachers Federation met at Newton High School last night to discuss the merits of Senate Bill 164, to equalize educational opportunity in Massachusetts cities and towns. Following a discussion led by Mr. Fred Pitkin, research director of the Massachusetts Teachers Federation, it was agreed that the groups represented should work together to inform the public of the need for this legislation.

In his remarks Mr. Pitkin pointed out that "education is a product that does not observe town lines." Reports of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, he said, show that "education is a good investment" because, the prosperity of a locality depends on the educational level of its citizens. Families move from city to city, however, so that only about one-half of the residents of a city receive their education in the city they live in. Many municipalities, he continued, simply do not have and cannot raise locally the funds to meet vital educational needs.

On the question, "How much does the State aid local schools?" Mr. Pitkin's data revealed the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 46th place among the 48 states. In 46 place among the 48 states. State aid to welfare is eight times as generous as its aid to education, and even under this bill, S 164, schools would get less than half as much as welfare. Of the $28,000,000 provided in the bill Newton would receive $240,000, according to the speaker, thereby relieving local real estate taxes somewhat. Decent school housing for pupils, trained teachers, and services such as guidance counselling will be impossible in many communities unless the cost is shared generally, it was declared.

Bill S 164 is backed by the Massachusetts PTA, the Massachusetts League of Women Voters, the Massachusetts Association of Women's Clubs, and the Massachusetts Association of School Board Members, as well as by the teachers' organizations. Last year a similar measure was beaten because it was tied to the unpopular sales tax. Sponsors of the present bill seek to have the funds appropriated from general taxation, rather than a specific tax source.

Present at the meeting were Dr. Homer W. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. Harold Gores, Assistant Superintendent; Mrs. Irene Thresher, a member of the School Committee; Mrs.

Bernie Burke Picked for N.C.A.A.

Bernie Burke, Boston College goalie, was named to the N. C.

Walker of the League of Women Voters; Mrs. Harry Brenner of the Ward School PTA; Mrs. S. Tornabene of the Davis PTA; Mrs. Eaton of the Cabot-Clafin PTA; Mr. George Koller of the Franklin School PTA; Mr. Herbert Downs of the Weeks School PTA; and Mr. Wilson C. Colvin, president of the Newton Teachers Federation, at whose request the group met.

Newton Corner Business Men "On The Ball"

It is with much interest and gratification that we view the proposed plans of the Newton Corner Business and Professional Association who are planning a new venture to be started the first week in April. They propose to enable 10 boys in Newton or Greater Boston to go to the Y.M.C.A. Camp Chickami for four weeks. Besides this they will also send 15 boys for two weeks. It is certainly laudable that this organization is beginning this excellent project. There is nothing more important in the life of any young boy or girl than healthy and productive leisure time activities. Far too often the younger generation is criticized but no real effort is made to fill their spare time hours with worth while and constructive amusement. But the Newton Corner Business and Professional Association which has proven itself in the past a forward-thinking, energetic organization which works for the benefit of all has once again made an active contribution to the youth of this city and environs. Through their efforts, these twenty-five boys will have the opportunity of a vacation that would otherwise be denied them. It is hoped that all will support this plan and make it a success. If this project is successful and well supported it will encourage others to make a similar attempt.

Veterans' Housing Assured

Despite the fact that no bids have been received for the construction of 415 veterans' houses at Oak Hill, there appears to be no need for veterans to be alarmed about the situation. In a statement to the Graphic Wednesday, Mayor Lockwood asserted that the matter is comfortably in hand.

The Housing Committee is giving tremendous thought and devoting much time to the discussion of the problem and a satisfactory solution is in sight.

A meeting of the Housing Committee and Mayor Lockwood on Friday will probably result in clearing up certain details which at present are causing some concern.

An Ounce of Prevention...

This week we received a letter from "A Concerned Neighbor" which we are publishing in another column on this page. It is our opinion that the views expressed by this fellow Newtonite are worthy of thought and consideration. In all situations both in war and peace, at home and abroad, it has always been proven that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

At the risk of being called war mongers and alarmists we feel that it is a wise suggestion that some measure of civilian defense again be made. In the last war our civilian defense group in Newton all made up of patriotic and courageous volunteers was well trained and ready at all times to meet and cope with any emergency.

At the present time, would it not be advisable to prepare a volunteer list of residents as suggested by our correspondent, as the first step toward preparedness?

Government Propaganda Takes Taxpayers' Money

The hot issue on Capitol Hill these days—one which promises to boil over before Congress adjourns in June—is the record of illegal spending by the Truman Administration on publicity and propaganda. Remember, this is a campaign year, and Congressmen are hopping mad about smears already traced to writers in federal bureaus.

Chief protagonist in this battle is the Publicity and Propaganda Subcommittee of the House Committee on Expenditures in Executive Departments, composed of two Democrats and three Republicans. Rep. Forest Harness (Ind.) is chairman.

The Eightieth Congress is emphasizing the fact that the Administration is loaded with professional propagandists. In 1947 the newly elected 80th rolled up its sleeves and began to look over the gentlemen of the kept government "press." They came up with some staggering facts for the American taxpayers.

First shock was the disclosure that in 1946 the cost of federal propaganda was $75 million. This would pay for many pressure campaigns. Of course, federal statutes absolutely forbid such embezzlement by one branch of government on another. Obviously, federal employees (who are not elected) are admirably situated for warring on unsympathetic, economy-minded Congressmen who have to win votes.

Subsequent diggings into bureau activities have repeatedly shown how John Q. Citizen has been uniquely coerced into joining the nation's most powerful lobby against himself and against the only member of government of whom he is boss—his Congressman. John Q.'s vote can't touch a bureaucrat.

Anyhow, John found that he had contributed $6 million to the War Department in 1946 to sell himself President Truman's pet defense theories; over $2 millions of his money to the Federal Security Agency which argued with his views on socialized medicine; more than $9 million to the Department of Agriculture to propagandize himself against a stabilized Agricultural budget; and well over $11 million to the Treasury Department to prepare himself for a succession of tax-bill vetoes.

As one Congressman pointed out, this pressure may be used on good or bad laws. The question is NOT the legislation at all, but whether irresponsible federal employees shall write their own laws and make their own budgets through pressure on Congress.

The latest trail to be uncovered leads to the Interior Department where charges of misuse of federal funds are so serious that there is talk of impeachment proceedings if the charges are verified.

You've gotta be fair to the Truman Administration! Under the last G.O.P. regime you could do without a pound of butter and a pound of steak and you'd only save about 98 cents. Today you can do without 'em and save $1.46.

Actor Harvey Stone quips: "Since the Trumans built that balcony on the White House, Washington residents are referring to them as 'Porchy and Bess'."

It remained for a Washington, D. C. tourist to revise the famous Churchill epigram to fit the Capitol. After viewing miles of corridors of bureaus, agencies and departments and with a deep understanding of cost and output, he sighed: "Never have so many done so little for so much!"

BLAZE IN GREENHOUSE BOILER ROOM

A blaze in the boiler room of a greenhouse located at 172 Pine street, Auburndale, was discovered by Rosemary Giglio, daughter of the owner of the greenhouse. The child saw the fire when she was returning from an errand; she told her family who called the fire department which quickly responded to the summons and extinguished the blaze. Mrs. Giglio particularly commended the fine work of the firemen in putting out the fire so rapidly and expeditiously that none of the plants were damaged.

A fire which swept through the third floor at the Girls' High School of Our Lady of Presentation at 2 Washington street, Newton, caused an estimated $5000 damage. 100 pupils and teachers fled from the building when smoke was first discovered and escaped injury. However, four firemen were hurt and three others escaped as a corner of the roof collapsed. Alderman Winfield G. Anderson who was driving by the building seeing the smoke turned in the first alarm.

CITY OF NEWTON PLANNING TO ERECT PUMPING STATION TO AID MOSQUITO CONTROL

The City of Newton is planning to drain Scribner's Swamp which has proven to be the worst mosquito breeding menace in the community. This will be accomplished by means of a pumping station which will be built at the Forest Grove road, Auburndale bank of the Charles River. The proposed plan is that this pumping station will keep the river from overflowing the surrounding swamps after the land has once been drained by members of the Mosquito Control project.

FIRE LOSS IN NEWTON REDUCED ONE THIRD IN 1947

Chief John L. Keating of the Newton Fire Department announced in a weekly Fire Prevention Service Bulletin that the fire loss in Newton had been reduced a third in Newton in 1947 over 1946. The total loss in Newton in '47 was slightly over $59,000 as against nearly $91,000 in 1946. It was also noted in the bulletin that fire prevention to be successful must have the cooperation of all.

LAUNDRY LOST, STRAYED, OR STOLEN FROM DOORWAY

When Mrs. Mary Briggs of 25 Berwick road, Newton, put her laundry out on the back steps, she expected that the laundry man would collect it. But when it failed to be returned on the scheduled day she checked and found that it had not been picked up by the laundry driver. She notified the police of this mysterious disappearance.

CLOTHES AND JEWELRY VALUED AT $400 STOLEN FROM AUBURNDALE HOME

The home of Charles E. Smith of 1769 Commonwealth avenue in Auburndale was looted of eight men's suits, 18 white shirts and rings the total value of which was set at $400. The thieves gained entrance by breaking the glass of the rear storm door and by breaking the glass near the lock of the inner door. The house was thoroughly ransacked and it was reported that aside from the clothes a white gold dinner ring with an opal surrounded by diamonds valued at $250 and a yellow gold ring with a sapphire surrounded by diamonds was also stolen.

Thieves also broke into the Odd Fellows' Hall at 15 South Gate Park in West Newton, but as far as can be ascertained at present the robbers obtained no loot.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN TO RECOMMEND ZONE CHANGE IN OAK HILL

The Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen propose to set forth a plan to change the zoning in the Oak Hill area from the present classification of Single house C district to business district. The committee will also propose other changes that will facilitate the plans now under way for the veterans' housing project.

NEWTON POLICEMAN KILLS SKUNK

Careful to stand at a reasonable distance Patrolman Howard Carley shot and killed a skunk—only one shot was necessary to do the trick. The animal was caught in a trap in the yard of Mrs. Madge Waldinger at 100 Dudley road in Newton Centre. The trap had been set to apprehend some animal that had been attacking the Waldinger hens.

HANDSOME BURGLAR APPREHENDED AS HE FLED FROM WEST NEWTON HOME

KENDRICK BRIDGE CLOSED

The Newton and Needham authorities closed the Kendrick Bridge which spans the Charles River between the two towns due to the high water mark of the river. The Newton Police closed traffic on Nahatan street and the Needham police did the same on the other side of the river. The officials were afraid that the water would overflow the bridge as it has already reached the height of the bridge.

NO BIDS RECEIVED FOR VETERANS' HOUSING PROJECT AT OAK HILL

Although seven firms had taken out plans and specifications at the office of the Public Buildings Department for the purpose of preparing bids for construction of the homes at the Newton Veterans' Housing Project at Oak Hill, no bids were received on Monday afternoon, the deadline for receiving the same.

Two American Legion Posts of Newton have stated that despite the fact that no bids were received they are confident that Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood and his associates will not overlook any legal and economic opportunity to circumvent this temporary "roadblock" and will accomplish at the earliest possible date the objective of adequate but inexpensive housing for Newton's veterans.

Newton in the Past

55 Years Ago, March 24, 1893

NEWTON—Lizzie Green was run over by a heavy wagon on Centre street, nearly opposite the Nonantum House, yesterday afternoon. She tried to catch on the side, slipped and went under the wheels. She was not seriously injured, fortunately, and was taken to her home on Maple street.

NEWTONVILLE—A. A. Savage's store was broken into sometime early this morning and two boxes of cigars and about two dollars in small change taken. Entrance was effected by rear window, in which the glass was broken and judging by the bloody marks left around the store the thief cut his hand.

WEST NEWTON—The car

House of the Newton Street Railway Company is soon to be enlarged, and, it is understood, will be of a sufficient size to accommodate the cars of the proposed line to Watertown.

AUBURDALE—Partelow's boat house opens next week. Preparations are now being made all along the river for the approaching boating season, which will be the gayest and most notable in many respects in recent years.

WABAN—Complaint is being made of the condition of the sidewalks and gutters. The city does little or no work for improvement on them, and in this weather they become a mass of mud.

THE JEWEL CASKET

There is a great fancy for ball watches; if solidly encrusted with diamonds, so much the better.

Silver skewers are desired for the sort of cooking men and women like to do after theatres and on Sundays. These are for dainty bits that people like to fix for themselves.

The tender passion in jewelry is much in evidence. Two hearts skewered on a dart, two doves billing and cooing on a branch, the hearts suspended from a love knot, are among the favorites.

The long sectional gold chains punctured with pearls that were introduced for lorgnons and were appropriate for muffs are now, it is said, being used in the old fashioned way for watch chains.—Jeweler's Circular.

50 Years Ago, March 25, 1898

NEWTON—It is now stated that the Hunnewell Club will be opened on May 1. The interior work is being pushed forward, and the building will be one of the handsomest clubhouses in the suburbs of Boston.

The business men on the Board of Aldermen evidently got weary of the interminable talk of a few members over nothing, and on Monday night at the end of the first hour three had dropped out, and after the second hour six had gone home. It is little wonder that the men who are there simply for business are rather disgusted at being kept there until midnight, when all the work might easily be transacted in an hour or two.

The Newton Street Railway Company has been granted the franchise for the Lexington line, by the close vote of 11 to 10. The conditions attached were more stringent than usual, but the days for free franchise for street railways appear to have gone by, except in the most thinly settled districts.

NEWTONVILLE—Fresh killed fowl 12 cts; 90 eggs, $1.00; 5 lb box butter $1.10; Green Mountain potatoes, $1.10 per bushel; four quarters of lamb, 8 cts per lb.; Newton Public Cash Market, 413 Centre street, opp. Public Library.

Peter McNeil, who was for some time conductor on the Newton and Boston street railway, has returned to his old position as officer at the insane department of the State Institute at Bridgewater. "Pete" as he was familiarly called, was very popular with the patrons of the road. He was especially noticeable as he stood about 6 feet 2.

THE HOLLYHOCK—FLORAL FLIRT

Then there is the Hollyhock, the worst flirt out! One never knows what to expect of it, except that it will always jauntily throw up its banner-spikes of bloom and look brightly and smilingly at you. It is a stately coquette, it is pretty and will coquette, it is pretty and will coquette. It won't grow in the place to which you carefully transplant it, and positively refuses to allow its seeds to germinate in the spot of your choice, but wantonly throws them about in the most undesirable places, and flourishes its coarse green leaves from the most impossible locations.—From "Flower Folk" in Suburban Life for April.

NEWTON CENTRE — Last Sunday evening the fruit store of Charles Santangelo of Centre street was broken into by two young boys of this village. The entrance was made by means of the back door and the young fellows took about ten dollars in cash from the register, besides about five dollars worth of candy and cigarettes. The

Letter to The Editor

Dear Sir:

For some time I have been following the development in the world situation which I feel should make every one of us aware of the need for preparedness for any eventuality.

Although the current unrest is world wide and seems far afield from us at the moment it could very easily effect our local community, neighborhood and democratic way of life.

In view of these facts it has occurred to me and to some of my neighbors that it might be wise to have a reserve of neighbors who could be called upon for quick emergency service should a crisis strike us and demand prompt and understanding action. This I feel is a necessity in the interest of our common public safety.

Should such a crisis occur, some official handling of it would undoubtedly be provided. I am not proposing to set up any organization at this time, but I think that it would be forehanded to list residents of the neighborhood who would be willing to be called on in case of danger.

In other words: Let's be ready if our services should be required.

If you could and would bring this before your readers attention it would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

"A Concerned Neighbor."

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Presidential Preference Act

Even the Boston Herald's political expert, Bert Mullins, seems to feel that "the Legislature probably erred in refusing to provide for a formal expression of preference in the April 27 Presidential primary." It develops that the informal polls being conducted in some of the Congressional districts for the purpose of sounding out local sentiment in connection with the numerous G.O.P. aspirants for President are arousing a great deal of interest. That being the case, does it not follow logically that hundreds of thousands of voters throughout the state would make a point of going to the polls on April 27 provided that they had a chance to record the name of their favorite candidate on their ballot?

Another point of considerable importance. Unexpected opposition to some of the so-called slates of candidates for delegates to the national convention next June may serve to stall off the present movement aimed at the abolition of this Presidential primary. It is my understanding that there will be contests in ten of the fourteen districts for the G.O.P. delegates. Had it not been for the rather unexpected withdrawal of the Rep. Allen and Lobel slate in our own Tenth district, there would now be eleven contests out of a possible fourteen.

If your columnist appears to harp on this problem of the April 27 primary and the desirability of inducing as large a turnout as possible, it is only because we are getting very close to the busiest political season we have had since the last election of a President in 1944. In the near future we shall be deluged with letters, circulars, phone calls, appeals for political contributions and all the rest of the customary routine. The trouble is, in my humble opinion, that the very leaders who will be asking us all for time, money and help of every description, are, in part, the same leaders who have done their best to kill off public interest in the April 27 affair. And the worst thing they did was to make it impossible for you and me to express our preference for President. Back-stage talk is to the effect that Speaker Martin of the House of Representatives asked to have this act killed, lest it interfere with his own candidacy as a leading dark-horse in the June convention. Also, close friends of Senator Saltonstall are reported to have asked to have the preference bill killed for the same reason; namely, that the Saltonstall chances of getting a dark-horse nomination would be hurt if a preferential vote in this state

Local Affairs

My recent column on the Aldermanic session at which the annual budget was passed seems to have created a good deal of interest. It was written from the viewpoint of a bystander who was not in a position to know all the details and all the maneuvering which went on prior to that particular session. Those who liked the column were appreciative of my faith in the new Board of Aldermen, which numbers quite a few men with no previous experience in our city government. On the other hand, some of those who were not so appreciative obtained the impression that I was not giving much time to the other part of the governmental picture. By that, of course, I mean the Mayor and the various department heads. In the near future I shall make it very clear that I am studying the entire picture and that I realize only too well the vital necessity of having both branches of the city government, executive and legislative, working constantly in close cooperation. Wherever we find ripe experience, we must use it. Age in itself does not mean wisdom, but it is found more frequently in those people with marked maturity. It is lucky for Newton that she has a Mayor who has had an opportunity to study, not merely the operation of our local set-up, but also the operation of city and town governments all over the country. Let us all, including our very earnest and hard-working Board of Aldermen, take full advantage of the wisdom and experience of our various public servants.

National Affairs

Only the most rabid members of the Republican party can gather much comfort from the reports coming out of Washington almost every day to the effect that President Truman's prestige is steadily declining, even in his own party. The mere fact that a tax-reduction bill vetoed might be overridden this time, tho' the G.O.P. failed twice in 1947 to do the same thing, is an indication of the rapidly-waning influence of the President in his own party. That, of course, carries over into the independent voters and irregular Republicans. It is a bad sign, chiefly on account of the ticklish international situation. We do need a strong man at the helm, and soon.

Teachers Contribute $689 To Drive For State Aid

Newton's teachers today completed their drive for membership in the Massachusetts Association for Adequate State Financing of Public Schools. Three hundred and forty-seven teachers contributed a total of $689 to a fund to inform the public of the need for more state aid in communities less able to support education by local real estate taxes.

Senate Bill 164, sponsored by such state-wide groups as the Association of School Board Members, Parent-Teachers Association, League of Women Voters, and Association of Women's Clubs, asks for $28,000,000 to meet this need. The communities would receive help in proportion to their need (number of children) and their ability to meet the cost locally (assessed valuation).

The Teachers Federation stated: "Where we need education the most is where there is least means to pay for it. If we are to combat the insidious propaganda of communism, we must enable its potential victims to meet it with the truth and with the realization that democracy protects their interest."

All store owners and managers in Newton are hereby requested to clean up their back yards and cellars. Every home owner and tenant is requested to check their premises and clean up all rubbish and garbage.

The Health Department has had many complaints that back yards, back alleys, and cellars have become cluttered with garbage and rubbish. Following the severe winter, conditions have become intolerable and probably are the worst in the history of Newton.

Quick action now in cleaning up your yard will prevent your property from becoming infested with rats, flies, roaches, ants, mosquitoes, and other vermin.

The Health Department expects this clean-up to be accomplished within one week of this notice.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kane Miller, (Janet Kendall) of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Richard Lynn Miller, 2d on Tuesday, March 2. Sharing in the honors as grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. Faulkner Kendall of 83 Institution avenue and Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Kurtz of Malvern, Pa.

Mrs. Donald MacPherson of 226 Greenwood street, and Mrs. Edward Leonard of Lake street were among the prize winners at the New England Spring Flower Show.

Miss Elizabeth Fischer and Miss Frances Archibald, both of Newton Centre, member of the University of Massachusetts Choral, took an active part in the concert presented in the Boston Alumni Club.

Mrs. Burton Payne Gray of 184 Gibbs street, Newton Centre, and daughter Virginia entertained a group on Monday evening, March 22nd. The guests included Rev. E. Bayes, pastor of Mariners Mission of Boston and Mrs. Bayes, Prof. and Mrs. Alvin Hansen of Harvard, Rev. and Mrs. Grew and Mrs. Blanche Lathrop of Framingham, Mrs. Grace E. Bacon and daughter Mrs. Arthur Boudreau of Otis street, Newtonville, Mr. Carl Suppe, student of international relations at Harvard and Miss Bessie Stratton, director of Religious Education at Eliot Church. The group had been invited to honor Dr. J. Clark Graham, president of Yankton College, South Dakota, who is lecturing in the East to college groups but he was unavoidably detained so the Rev. Mr. Bayes gave a talk about his travels in Italy, and others told of experiences.

A buffet supper brought to an end a enjoyable evening. They're giving the snow shovel a special place in the barn, I hear, for meritorious duty in the "blizzard of '48" and incidentally, it can stay there, for a snow shovel, is decidedly not a "new look" for any of us. We'd much rather hear about all the younger set coming home from school on vacation, for that means spring for all of us. There's Eddie Mentzer home from Wilbraham, Carol Peebles home from Boston University, George West home from Vermont Academy, David Goodwin from Hebron Academy, and David Clough from Tabor. No doubt the old homestead looks pretty good, after no sight of it since Christmas. Christmas! Ah Yes, and snow! Some of them are so homesick for the sight of it, they've gone right back up to find it, and what is nearer Heaven to a skier's heart than Stowe, Vermont? Ask George West and Billy Cummings who just came back from there. Bet they're making ski plans for next Thanksgiving!

Let's take a nose dive into the very heart of Spring! And by my most ruffled petticoat, if it isn't Easter next Sunday! I know, there's been Easter eggs for sale in the Star Market for just ages and ages, but somehow I had to see that first robin first, before I went up to Sally Wheeler's about that Spring Dress. She and her daughter Connie are coming home, you know, about the first of April, from Fort Lauderdale, and they're bringing all kinds of new ideas with them, on how to make you ladies prettier than ever for your Spring parties.

Pardon me, Mr. Robin, you'll have to share the limelight for a moment, with a fellow who is apt to take it from you most any time. You know, Mr. Stork, and here's why: On March 12, he made a three point landing with Joan Evelyn Peebles in Keene, New Hampshire and Ellen Louise Ross at the Richardson House in Boston. Congratulations to all the happy parents and grandparents. Joan Evelyn is the proud daughter of Bob and Gertrude Peebles of Keene New Hampshire and grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo C. Peebles of Morton street. Ellen Louise is the proud daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ross of Hancock Village, Brookline. Mrs. Ross was formerly Elizabeth Walworth of Newton Centre, and her baby is named after Miss Louise Walworth of Homer street. Grand parent honors go to Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ross of Needham and Mr. and Mrs. A. Clarence Walworth. Bouquets to all of you for these beautiful belles of 1970.

Speaking of bouquets, here's one filled with "get well quicks" and "speedy recoveries" to Mr. Joseph B. Jameson of 93 Homer street, Dr. Harold G. Giddings of 29 Berwick road, Miss Madeleine Sowles of 390 Dedham street, who is recuperating at the John Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, and to Miss Priscilla Ordway of 111 Gibbs street.

And here's another bouquet, (I seem to be tumbling all over with them this morning) to Mrs. Edwin D. Leonard of 152 Lake avenue, who won a first prize for her entry at the garden show.

Mrs. C. Randolph Bennett of Morton street is continuing her stay in St. Petersburg until the last of April. . . Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Williams of 102 Homer street are making plans to take a trip to Williamsburg the first week in April. And that seems to be all the globe trotting I have located at the moment, but these staying at home are by no means dormant. . . There's Miss Louise Walworth of 100 Homer street who entertained President Seelye Bixler of Colby College last Tuesday and Mrs. Harold Keeler who is busy being Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee at Trinity Church, and is in charge of the Rummage Sale to be given there, March 31, from ten A.M. to three P.M. and joy upon joy! no dish-washing at lunch time, for there'll be a sumptuous lunch bar for one and all. . . Then there's Grace McLellan of 138 Lincoln street who is busy helping to further plans for a Bradford Junior Pops Concert. Pops! That's REALLY Spring! Where's my straw hat! And incidentally, my pad and pencil, too, for I've got to be off to see what's doing in town, so I can tell you about it next week. Until then, Happy Easter.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with a V neckline of lace. Her veil of tulle was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of bouvardia and white orchids. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. William P. Reed (Lillian Davidson) as matron of honor who wore a gown of jonquil yellow faille taffeta with an off-the-shoulder neckline. The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Houghton of Newton Centre, Mrs. E. Thayer Richardson of Winchester, Mrs. Alfred Shrigley, Jr. of Hingham, Mrs. Henry S. Hopkins of South Shaftsbury, Vermont; Mrs. Weston P. Piggins of Baltimore, Maryland and Mrs. Robert W. Kreiter of South Orange, New Jersey, wore gowns of Spring green faille fashioned with off-the-shoulder necklines.

Two nieces of the bride, Anne Ayres of Wellesley Hills and Heather Ann Muir of Cohasset served as flower girls. They wore short taffeta frocks of jonquil yellow fashioned with sweetheart necklines, puffed sleeves and lace trimming.

The bride's mother wore a gown of aqua with a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Warren wore a beige crepe with a corsage of roses and sweet peas.

The bride was graduated from the Beaver Country Day School, Mount Holyoke College and the Katherine Gibbs School. Mr. Warren was graduated from Tabor Academy and Harvard College, class of 1936. He served for two years with the U. S. Army in Europe.

Scouting

NORUMBEGA COUNCIL, INC., BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
A RED FEATHER AGENCY

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Norumbega Council Scouters completed two weeks of service for the Newton-Wellesley Hospital last Sunday night. These Scouters gave service as volunteer Orderlies, twenty-four hours a day to the Interlake Chemical Company disaster victims.

The victims of this explosion give the highest of praise and the greatest of thanks to these men, who so unselfishly gave of their time and energy.

Not only Scouters, but members of the Newton Rotary Club, Wellesley Rotary Club and Red Cross all aided in carrying out this fine bit of community service.

CAMP QUINAPOXET

Norumbega Scouts will receive, real soon, applications for attendance at Camp Quinapoxet.
